First Reading

Acts of the Apostles 2:1-11

A reading from the Acts of the Apostles

They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak different languages.

When Pentecost day came round, the apostles had all met in one room, when suddenly they heard what sounded like a powerful wind from heaven, the noise of which filled the entire house in which they were sitting; and something appeared to them that seemed like tongues of fire; these separated and came to rest on the head of each of them. They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak foreign languages as the Spirit gave them the gift of speech.

Now there were devout men living in Jerusalem from every nation under heaven, and at this sound they all assembled, each one bewildered to hear these men speaking his own language. They were amazed and astonished. 'Surely' they said 'all these men speaking are Galileans? How does it happen that each of us hears them in his own native language? Parthians, Medes and Elamites; people from Mesopotamia, Judaea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya round Cyrene; as well as visitors from Rome – Jews and proselytes alike – Cretans and Arabs; we hear them preaching in our own language about the marvels of God.'

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 103:1. 24. 29-31. 34. R. v.30

(R.) Lord, send out your Spirit and renew the face of the earth.

or

(R.) Alleluia!

1. Bless the Lord, my soul!
Lord God, how great you are,
How many are your works, O Lord!
The earth is full of your riches. (R.)
2. You take back your spirit, they die, returning to the dust from which they came.
You send forth your spirit, they are created;
and you renew the face of the earth. (R.)
3. May the glory of the Lord last for ever!
May the Lord rejoice in his works!
May my thoughts be pleasing to him.
I find my joy in the Lord. (R.)

Second Reading

1 Corinthians 12:3-7, 12-13

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

In the one Spirit we were all baptised, making one body.

No one can say, 'Jesus is Lord' unless he is under the influence of the Holy Spirit.

There is a variety of gifts but always the same Spirit; there are all sorts of service to be done, but always to the same Lord; working in all sorts of different ways in different people, it is the same God who is working in all of them. The particular way in which the Spirit is given to each person is for a good purpose.

Just as a human body, though it is made up of many parts, is a single unit because all these parts, though many, make one body, so it is with Christ. In the one Spirit we were all baptised, Jews as well as Greeks, slaves as well as citizens, and one Spirit was given to us all to drink.

Sequence

Veni, sancte Spiritus

Holy Spirit, Lord of Light, From the clear celestial height
Your pure beaming radiance give. Come, O Father of the poor,
Come with treasures that endure; Come, O light of all that live!

You, of all consolers best, You, the soul's delightful guest,
Sweet refreshing peace bestow. You in work our comfort sweet;
Pleasant coolness in the heat; Solace in the midst of woe.

Light immortal, light divine, Show your love to human kind,
And our inmost being fill: If you take your grace away,
Nothing pure in us will stay; All our good is turned to ill.

Heal our wounds, our strength renew; On our dryness pour your dew;
Wash the stains of guilt away: Bend the stubborn heart and will;
Melt the frozen, warm the chill; Guide the steps that go astray.

On the faithful who adore And confess you evermore,
In your sevenfold gifts descend: Give us comfort when we die,
Give us life with you on high; Give us joys that never end

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

Come, Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of your faithful and kindle in them the fire of your love.

Alleluia!

Gospel

John 20:19-23

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

As the Father sent me, so I send you: Receive the Holy Spirit.

In the evening of the first day of the week, the doors were closed in the room where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews. Jesus came and stood among them. He said to them, 'Peace be with you', and showed them his hands and his side. The disciples were filled with joy when they saw the Lord, and he said to them again, 'Peace be with you.'

'As the Father sent me,
so am I sending you.'

After saying this he breathed on them and said:

'Receive the Holy Spirit.
For those whose sins you forgive,
they are forgiven:
for those whose sins you retain,
they are retained.'

The Creed is said.

Communion Antiphon

Acts of the Apostles 2:4,11

They were all filled with the Holy Spirit and spoke of the marvels of God, alleluia.

Flowers Ministry

Our Flowers Ministry helps enhance the beauty and prayerfulness of our church through floral arrangements and seasonal displays throughout the liturgical year. From the joy of Easter and Christmas to the quieter seasons of the Church calendar, the ministry contributes greatly to creating a welcoming and reverent space for worship and reflection.

We sincerely thank the members of the Flowers Ministry for the time, creativity and care they generously offer to our parish community. New volunteers are always welcome, whether you have experience with floral arrangements or simply a willingness to assist. If you are interested in becoming involved, please contact Tim in the parish office on 59752200.

Scriptural Context

Not the only Ascension

The description of Jesus being taken up into heaven is a close parallel to the description of the great prophet Elijah also being taken up to heaven. Chapter 2 of 2 Kings describes Elijah speaking to his disciple Elisha in similar words to those used by Jesus to his disciples. The Jewish tradition had no belief in an individual resurrection and so the idea of Ascension was to recognise the greatness of the prophet. He was to be united with God in Heaven rather than having to wait for the great resurrection of all people at the end of time.

Gospel reflection

The short gospel passage for today is taken from the final words of the gospel of Matthew. It is known as 'The Great Commission' as Jesus is portrayed commissioning his disciples to go out to the world and spread the good news. They are charged to 'Go, therefore, make disciples of all the nations.' This is the basis of much of the missionary work of the Church that has gone on ever since then. However, the focus of today's feast is much more on the first reading than the gospel. The opening verses of the Book of Acts, from the author of Luke-Acts, describe the final instructions of Jesus to his disciples and then his 'lifting up'. The Luke-Acts writer is the only gospel writer to actually describe the Ascension. The fact that the other gospels don't discuss the Ascension in any detail at all is a good indication that this description should not be taken literally. However, the message of the Ascension is a powerful one. It reminds us that Jesus, the human incarnation of God on earth, was limited to a specific time and place in history. Despite the physical limitations of his life on earth, Jesus ensured that his message and ministry would continue through those he had taught. Knowing that the disciples would need time to grieve and come to terms with all that had occurred in a relatively short space of time, Jesus promised that the Spirit would come upon them in the days to come. That visiting of the Spirit upon the disciples at Pentecost was the motivation to set about doing what Jesus had charged them to do. Without the Ascension, there is no Pentecost.

Historical Context – To the ends of the earth

In both the gospel passage from Matthew and the passage from the Book of Acts, Jesus commissioned his disciples to go out to the whole world. In Matthew, it is to 'all the nations' and in Acts it is 'to the ends of the earth'. Both writers make it abundantly clear that the message of Jesus is not exclusively for the people of Israel but for all people everywhere. Within only a very few years, early Christian communities had sprung up all around the Mediterranean. Once Christianity became the religion of Rome it spread to all the corners of the Roman Empire.

Living the Gospel – You will be my witnesses

A witness in a court of law is called to give evidence about a matter; to 'testify' to the truth of what they have seen or what they know to be true. Some people are very good at being a 'witness' to their faith by testifying to others about what they believe. Many others provide witness to their faith by simply living what they believe. Living a life based on Christian principles, including regular prayer and worship in your life, working for justice in the world and taking time to celebrate the beauty of everyday life is a powerful witness to others.

Pope: approves creation of Interdicasterial Commission on Artificial Intelligence

In a rescript signed by Cardinal Michael Czerny, Prefect of the Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development, Pope Leo XIV approves the creation of an Interdicasterial Commission on Artificial Intelligence.

By Isabella H. de Carvalho

Pope Leo XIV approved the creation of an Interdicasterial Commission on Artificial Intelligence in a rescript dated May 12, released on May 16, and signed by Cardinal Michael Czerny, Prefect of the Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development. Considering “the development in recent decades of the phenomenon of Artificial Intelligence and the most recent accelerations in its widespread use; its potential effects on human beings and on humanity as a whole; the Church’s concern for the dignity of every human person, especially in relation to their integral development; Pope Leo XIV approved the establishment of a Interdicasterial Commission on Artificial Intelligence,” the text reads. The Pope approved the creation of the body following an audience with Cardinal Czerny on May 3. The Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development will coordinate the work of the Commission for the first year.

Several Vatican Dicasteries working together

The text explains that the Commission is made up of representatives from 7 Vatican bodies: the Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development, the Dicastery for the Doctrine of the Faith, the Dicastery for Culture and Education, the Dicastery for Communication, the Pontifical Academy for Life, the Pontifical Academy of Sciences, and the Pontifical Academy of Social Sciences. One of these institutions will be in charge of coordinating the Commission for one-year terms, which can be renewed, and the Pope then decides the next body that will lead the works. The text explains that “it is the responsibility of the coordinating institution to facilitate collaboration and the exchange of information among group members regarding activities and projects related to Artificial Intelligence, including policies on its use within the Holy See, while promoting dialogue, communion, and participation.” Cardinal Czerny established the body according to Article 28 of the Apostolic Constitution Praedicate Evangelium, under which the head of a Dicastery may create a special interdicasterial commission to address matters that touch the responsibilities of several Dicasteries and that require “mutual and frequent consultation.”

A theme dear to Pope Leo XIV

This is not the first time Dicasteries have come together to address this issue. In January 2025, the Dicastery for the Doctrine of the Faith and the Dicastery for Culture and Education published the note Antiqua et Nova on the relationship between artificial intelligence and human intelligence. Additionally, the theme has been present throughout Pope Leo XIV’s pontificate, as he has often spoken about artificial intelligence and other technological advancements and the challenges they can pose to our society. As early as May 10, 2025, only days after his election, in a meeting with the cardinals, the Pope explained that his choice of papal name was inspired by Pope Leo XIII who addressed the issues brought about by the industrial revolution in his encyclical Rerum Novarum. He then highlighted that “in our own day, the Church offers to everyone the treasury of her social teaching in response to another industrial revolution and to developments in the field of artificial intelligence that pose new challenges for the defence of human dignity, justice and labour.”

Note: Pope Leo XIV’s first encyclical, Magnifica humanitas, will be published on 25 May and will address artificial intelligence and the protection of human dignity, the Vatican has announced.

Pentecost marks the 50th and final day of the Easter season. It commemorates the descent of the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles, transforming them into empowered witnesses and marking the birth of the Christian Church.

While Easter celebrates Jesus's victory over death through the resurrection, Pentecost is the outpouring of the Holy Spirit. Together, they bridge the historical events of Christ's life and the ongoing life of the Church.

Yes, our Church, and although not perfect, as each member is not perfect, we continue to grow, learn and hopefully improve - as individuals and thus as a community.

“Every day, as long as this ‘today’ lasts, keep encouraging one another”

(Heb 3:13)

That quote is from St Paul, and it is a nice reminder to us all, that good words can be encouraging and help build people up. But the opposite is also true, and bad words can be destructive and bring people down.

We are sometimes unaware of the harm that our verbal or written words can do.

We can all easily fall into this sin, by either cruelly attacking or by responding hatefully, and I include myself in this. Yes, we are all vulnerable of falling into this trap.

Jesus speaks very strongly about the way we speak about other people.

And the Bible clearly condemns slander, false witness, gossip, and malicious speech.

From the Catechism of the Catholic Church:

Part 3: Life in Christ (1691 - 2557); Section 2: The Ten Commandments (2052 - 2557);

Chapter 2: You Shall Love Your Neighbor as Yourself (2196 - 2557);

Article 8: The Eighth Commandment (2464 - 2513)

Jesus said to his disciples: "Love one another even as I have loved you."¹ You shall not bear false witness against your neighbor.²⁵³

III. OFFENSES AGAINST TRUTH

2477 Respect for the reputation of persons forbids every attitude and word likely to cause them unjust injury. 278 He becomes guilty:

- of rash judgment who, even tacitly, assumes as true, without sufficient foundation, the moral fault of a neighbor;
- of detraction who, without objectively valid reason, discloses another's faults and failings to persons who did not know them; 279
- of calumny who, by remarks contrary to the truth, harms the reputation of others and gives occasion for false judgments concerning them.

[186. Ex 20:15; Deut 5:19; Mt 19:18. 278. Cf. CIC, can. 220. 279. Cf. Sir 21:28.]

So let us all take this reminder on board and try harder to practice what St Paul said:

“Every day, as long as this ‘today’ lasts, keep encouraging one another”

National Volunteer Week is Australia's largest annual celebration of volunteering.

It recognises the contribution of millions of volunteers across the country and invites everyone to discover how giving their time and talents can create connection, purpose, and stronger communities.

We are blessed in this Parish to have magnificent volunteers in many aspects of Parish and Community life and recognise all volunteers as valuable.

So why not share your volunteering story.

Tell us how your role has made a difference in your life.

Every story helps highlight the value of volunteering and builds momentum for a stronger volunteer Parish.

Email us: mornington@cam.org.au

The St Vincent de Paul Society's National President Mark Gaetani said National Volunteer Week gives us pause to reflect on the place of individual relationships and community involvement in our Australian way of life. "Volunteers are the lifeblood of the Society, but we are seeing fewer people stepping forward," he said.

"At the same time, the need for support has never been greater. What we've learned is that making a difference doesn't require a huge commitment. Just two hours a week can mean a shared meal, a meaningful conversation, or a turning point for someone doing it tough.

"In less time than it takes to go see a movie, you can make a real difference in someone's life – and your own...Our volunteers come from all walks of life. One thing they have in common is a desire to share their time with other people in their community. Whether it is giving a hand up for their neighbors who need a listening ear or walking alongside those who are doing it tough today, we see a real joy from all those touched by volunteering," Mr. Gaetani said.

"Volunteering reflects our inherent need for friendship and connection within and across our diverse local communities. Volunteers are part of the fabric that help bind our national social cohesion at so many local levels."

"A Parish is not run by me - your Priest. But by you, the volunteers"

"You are never more like Jesus than when you choose to serve and give. In Matthew 20:28, Jesus said He came 'not to be served, but to serve.'

"Jesus made a beautiful promise in Matthew 25:40: 'Whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me.'

Jokes of the Week

#1: The gift of counsel: Just after receiving his driver's license, a Lutheran minister's son wanted to talk about using the family car. "I'll make a deal with you," his father said. "Bring your grades up, read your Bible more often, and get a haircut. Then you may use the car once or twice a week." A month later the question came up again. "Son," the father said, "I'm proud of you. I see you studying hard and reading your Bible every day. But you didn't get a haircut." After a moment's pause, the son replied, "Yeah, I've thought about that. But Samson had long hair, Moses had long hair, and even Jesus had long hair." "True," the father replied, "but maybe you noticed that they walked wherever they went?"

#2: The gift of fortitude: A mother refused to permit her little boy to go for a picnic with his classmates. On the day of the picnic, however, she changed her mind and gave him permission. But he sighed and confessed, "It's too late Mummy! I've already prayed for rain on the school picnic day!"

#3: The gift of knowledge: The story is told of a man who went to the priest and said, "Father, I want you to say a Mass for my dog." The priest was indignant. "What do you mean, say a Mass for your dog?" "It's my pet dog," said the man. "I loved that dog and I'd like you to offer a Mass for him." "We don't offer Masses for dogs here," the priest said. "You might try the denomination down the street. Ask them if they have a service for you." As the man was leaving, he said to the priest, "I really loved that dog. I was planning to give a five-thousand-dollar stipend for the Mass." And the priest said, "Wait a minute! Why didn't tell me that your dog was Catholic?!"
