First Reading

Proverbs 9:1-6

A reading from the book of Proverbs

Come and eat my bread; drink the wine I have prepared.

Wisdom has built herself a house, she has erected her seven pillars, she has slaughtered her beasts, prepared her wine, she has laid her table.
She has despatched her maidservants and proclaimed from the city's heights:
'Who is ignorant? Let him step this way.'

To the fool she says,

'Come and eat my bread, drink the wine I have prepared!
Leave your folly and you will live, walk in the ways of perception.'

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 33(34):2-3. 10-15. R. v.9

(R.) Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

1. I will bless the Lord at all times,
his praise always on my lips;
in the Lord my soul shall make its boast.
The humble shall hear and be glad. (R.)

2. Revere the Lord, you his saints.
They lack nothing, those who revere him.
Strong lions suffer want and go hungry
but those who seek the Lord lack no blessing. (R.)

3. Come children, and hear me that I may teach you the fear of the Lord.
Who is he who longs for life
and many days, to enjoy his prosperity? (R.)

4. Then keep your tongue from evil
and your lips from speaking deceit.
Turn aside from evil and do good;
seek and strive after peace. (R.)

Second Reading

Ephesians 5:15-20

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Ephesians

Be watchful that you may know the will of God.

Be very careful about the sort of lives you lead, like intelligent and not like senseless people. This may be a wicked age, but your lives should redeem it. And do not be thoughtless but recognise what is the will of the Lord. Do not drug yourselves with wine, this is simply dissipation; be filled with the Spirit. Sing the words and tunes of the psalms and hymns when you are together, and go on singing and chanting to the Lord in your hearts, so that always and everywhere you are giving thanks to God who is our Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Gospel Acclamation

John 6:56

Alleluia, alleluia!

All who eat my flesh and drink my blood live in me and I in them, says the Lord.
Alleluia!

Gospel

John 6:51-58

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

My flesh is real food and my blood is real drink.

Jesus said to the crowd:

‘I am the living bread which has come down from heaven. Anyone who eats this bread will live for ever; and the bread that I shall give is my flesh, for the life of the world.’

Then the Jews started arguing with one another: ‘How can this man give us his flesh to eat?’ they said. Jesus replied:

‘I tell you most solemnly, if you do not eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you will not have life in you. Anyone who does eat my flesh and drink my blood has eternal life, and I shall raise him up on the last day. For my flesh is real food and my blood is real drink.

He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood lives in me and I live in him.

As I, who am sent by the living Father, myself draw life from the Father, so whoever eats me will draw life from me. This is the bread come down from heaven;

not like the bread our ancestors ate: they are dead, but anyone who eats this bread will live for ever.

Communion Antiphon

Psalms 129:7

With the Lord there is mercy;
in him is plentiful redemption.

WELCOME TO GOD'S FAMILY

LIVING GOSPEL

You are what you eat

In a world that is obsessed with health and fitness and yet, ironically, also experiencing an ever-increasing overweight and obese population, what we eat has come under greater scrutiny than ever before. 'You are what you eat' has become a catchcry for healthy eating but Catholics have known the truth of this statement for centuries. When we participate in the Eucharist, we not only receive the body of Christ; we become the body of Christ. The people who make up the Church in the world are indeed the body of Christ. In the words of St Teresa, 'Christ has no body now but yours!'

Gospel Reflection

This gospel passage continues the 'Bread of Life' discourse that we have been following through the Gospel of John for a few weeks now. It overlaps with the reading from last week with Jesus announcing that his flesh is the 'bread of life'. Not surprisingly, the Jewish audience is horrified by the idea of eating human flesh. Jesus drives his point home further with his audience by also referring to the drinking of blood. In Jewish tradition, even to touch blood made a person ritually unclean.

Any meat that was to be eaten had to be drained of blood, according to kosher rules. The words used by Jesus in this passage are so confronting that they cannot possibly be taken literally. It is a complete overstatement of the image to try to make sure that a literal interpretation is impossible.

When the gospel writer has Jesus speaking about eating his flesh and drinking his blood he is drawing on a very old image of eating and drinking as representing 'absorbing'; or 'comprehending'; or 'understanding' the message of the speaker. In this ancient understanding, to 'eat the flesh' of Jesus is to take into yourself and accept everything that Jesus stands for; everything that Jesus teaches; everything that Jesus believes. It is an act of faith. When we received Christ in the Eucharist, is this the depth of significance and purpose with which we take communion? Unmistakably, this passage points us to the Christian sacrament of Eucharist. The practice of sharing Eucharist as a memorial of Jesus was already well established in the Christian communities by the time this gospel was written and throughout this extended discourse on the 'Bread of Life' the author provides a direct link between the practice of Eucharist and the teachings of Jesus.

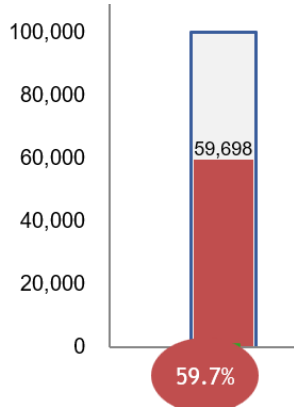

Volunteering - Something we can all do.

This week we are asking for more helpers in the AV Operators ministry group. AV operators need no prior experience, just a keenness to enhance the liturgy of the Mass for others (training will be provided).

We need you!

Parish Footy Tipping Competition

Who will be our winner and take home the $ 600 first prize? After another difficult week to tip winners Chris Houlihan is now two in front of Mel Fisher, Peter Keightley and Maree O'Halloran. 2 further back are John Frank, Kees Duyvestyn and Tony McInerney. Our best tipper last week was Tahlia Jolly who picked 7/9. Only 2 Rounds remain before the Finals when our finals tipping competition starts.

Australia is one of the only 3 countries who have won a medal at every one of the modern Olympic Games. In 1898, 2 years after the Games started our first VFL final took place. Who won and who were the original teams that started in our VFL and which of the 8 teams disbanded in 1996 ?

Bequests

Leaving a gift in your Will is a lasting testament to your values; ensuring that your dedication to improving the lives of others can continue for future generations.

We understand that providing for loved ones comes first, but even a small percentage of your estate left to the Parish can make a huge difference for our community, especially for those who are struggling with life's challenges also it will assist in the future growth of the Parish.

If you intend to leave a gift to the Parish in your Will, we'd love to know so that we can express our appreciation and gratitude. We would also like to have a bequest plaque created and displayed for you, on a Church memorial wall. Any information you provide will always be treated with the utmost respect for your privacy.

The Parish would like to express our heartfelt thanks to all benefactors - your generosity will enable the Parish to help future generations and give all people in our community the opportunity to enjoy 'life to the full'.

Pope at Angelus: Faith is not true if based on our prejudices

At the Angelus prayer on Sunday, Pope Francis urges Christians to embrace true faith and prayer that open our hearts and are never based on our prejudices.

By Devin Watkins

Pope Francis prayed the noon-day Angelus on Sunday with pilgrims in St. Peter's Square, and reflected on the day's Gospel (Jn 6:41-51).

Ahead of the traditional Marian prayer, the Pope noted that Jesus' contemporaries refused to believe His word that He had "come down from heaven."

Since they knew His father and mother, as well as His profession as a carpenter, they doubted that God could manifest Himself in such a familiar, ordinary way.

"They were obstructed in their faith," said the Pope, "by their preconception of His humble origins and the presumption, therefore, that they have nothing to learn from Him."

Hardened hearts impede spiritual growth

Pope Francis noted how damaging prejudices and closure of heart can be for a person's spiritual growth.

He said Jesus' contemporaries, as recounted in John's Gospel, observed the law, pray, and fast, adding that they carried out these practices only to seek confirmation of what they already thought.

"This is demonstrated by the fact that they do not even take the trouble to ask Jesus for an explanation," he said. "They limit themselves to murmuring among themselves against Him, as though to reassure each other of what they are convinced, closing themselves up as if in an impenetrable fortress."

Their hardened hearts and prejudices, said the Pope, keep them from believing in God's Son.

True faith and prayer open the heart, not close it

The Holy Father went on to warn that the same closure can happen to us when we pray only to find confirmation of our own convictions and judgments.

"True faith and prayer open the mind and the heart; they do not close them," he said. "When you find a person who is closed in mind and prayer, their faith and prayer are not true."

Pope Francis concluded his reflections at the Angelus by inviting everyone to ask ourselves if we are able to be truly silent before the Lord and welcome His voice.

"May Mary help us to listen with faith to the Lord's voice, and to do His will courageously."

DO YOU REMEMBER?

'Something to be proud of': remembering Melbourne's 1956 Olympic Mass

Fr Brian Cosgriff was a second-year seminarian at Corpus Christi College in Werribee at the time of the Melbourne Olympics in 1956. On Sunday 25 November—the first Sunday of the Games—he remembers being bussed across to Como Park in South Yarra with other seminarians to attend the official 'Olympic Mass', joining 70,000 others who gathered at the park that day. It's a day that has stayed in his memory. 'You had a kind of an appreciation of the effect that the Catholic Church had,' he said of celebrating Mass among so many people. Five hundred athletes and officials and 500 personnel from visiting warships were among the 70,000 people who attended the Pontifical High Mass according to a story the following day in the Argus, which described the celebration as 'the Roman Catholic Church's contribution to the Olympic festivities'. May the world's athletes gathered in the bond of their common humanity find in our city the peace that lies in the shadow of God.

The Archdiocese's own newspaper, the Advocate, had been promoting the Mass for months, and special souvenir programmes had been on sale in parishes—at 2 shillings a copy—to help cover the cost of the Mass and the 'spiritual facilities' that the Church had committed to providing for athletes at the Olympic Village in West Heidelberg. 'May the smile of Christ be on the Olympic Games,' Archbishop Daniel Mannix wrote in a handwritten message reproduced in the programme. 'May the world's athletes gathered in the bond of their common humanity find in our city the peace that lies in the shadow of God.'

With most of Melbourne's large venues already being used for the Games, Como Park's 'natural setting' provided both 'ample accommodation for a huge crowd' and adequate parking nearby, according to the Advocate, which reported that a 'five-minute bus service from Princes Bridge will run direct to the Park', along with another 10-minute service from the corner of Glenhuntly and Kooyong roads. The planning for the Mass almost rivalled that of the Games themselves, with a choir of 200 seminarians and 600 schoolgirls 'attired in blue cloaks and white veils', joining the St Patrick's Cathedral Choir, the St Vincent de Paul Boys' Orphanage Band, the Xavier College Band and the Bendigo Marist Brothers' Old Boys' Band to provide the music. 'Two-thirds of the oval is to be taken up with the formation of a living cross,' the Advocate reported. 'The cross will be outlined by members of school Cadet units, and will be filled by members of the YCW [Young Christian Workers] and NCGM [National Catholic Girls Movement]. A circle around the cross will be formed by over 1000 Catholic Scouts.' Everything was planned in minute detail—or almost everything. Addressing members of the Victorian Catholic Lawn Tennis Association in the lead-up to the Mass, Archbishop Mannix said, 'I hope that we are all praying for good weather on that day.

Our organisers have provided for everything else.' The prayers must have been answered, with photos of the day showing clear skies.

Among the official party at the Mass were Victorian Governor Sir Dallas Brooks, Prince Jean and Princess Josephine of Luxembourg, the Premier Mr Bolte and the Lord Mayor Cr Sir Frank Selleck, along with members of various Olympic committees, the Melbourne and Prahran city councils, and officials and consular representatives of more than 30 nations. According to the Advocate, 'several hundred officers and men from visiting Navy ships' were also transported to the park and 'seated in a huge semi-circle around the eastern end of the oval'. Archbishop Guilford Young of Hobart preached a rousing sermon, speaking of the ways humans through the centuries have tried to achieve 'mastery and harmony' through 'organised play'. When he came to the end of his sermon, he wished all the athletes 'a bonzer time in Australia'. We Catholics are justly proud of the fact that we injected into the feverish carnival of sport a spiritual note of such strength and magnificence that it has also made history.

THE ARCHBISHOP'S CAMPAIGN

The 2024 Archbishop's campaign is now underway, and we ask everyone to consider a pledge to support the vital ministries of our Archdiocese. These ministries are outlined in the campaign brochure which you will find in your pew and in the foyer today. Gifts of $2 or more are tax-deductible. Tax-deductible donations go the Archbishops charitable Fund which supports the Corpus Christi College Building Fund, the Priests retirement Foundation, John Pierce Centre, Melbourne Overseas Mission, University of Divinity Building Fund as well as Catholic community agencies and service organisations through annual grants. Non-tax-deductible donations go to the Catholic Archdiocese of Melbourne Religious Projects Fund and support seminarian formation and evangelization ministries. Please review the campaign material and prayerfully consider pledging a recurring monthly gift to help us continue to strengthen the Christian faith and address the needs of God's people. You can also make a gift online at <https://melbournecatholic.org/archbishopscampaign> or via the QR codes on the campaign materials. I invite you to give generously to this important campaign.

Jokes of the Week

1: Life-giving bread in Heaven's buffet: This 85-year-old couple, having been married almost 60 years, had died in a car crash. They had been in good health for the last ten years, mainly due to their interest in healthful food and exercise. When they reached the Pearly Gates, St. Peter took them to their mansion, which was decked out with a beautiful kitchen, a master bath suite and a Jacuzzi. As they "ooohed and aaahed," the old man asked Peter how much all this was going to cost - "It's free," Peter replied, "this is Heaven." Next, they went to see the championship golf course that their heavenly home backed up to. St. Peter told them they would have golfing privileges every day. The old man asked, "What are the greens fees?" Peter's reply, "This is heaven; you play for free." Next, they went to the clubhouse and saw a lavish buffet laid out for them. "How much does it cost to eat?" asked the old man. "Don't you understand yet? This is heaven! It's free!" Peter replied. "Well, where are the low fat and low cholesterol foods?" the old man asked sadly. Peter smiled and said, "That's the best part...you can eat as much as you like of whatever you like and you never get fat and you never get sick. This is Heaven." The old man looked angrily at his wife and said, "You and your bran muffins! We could have been here ten years ago!"
