First Reading

Sirach 3:17-20, 28-29

A reading from the book of Ecclesiasticus

Humble yourself and you will find favour with the Lord.

My son, be gentle in carrying out your business,
and you will be better loved than a lavish giver.

The greater you are, the more you should behave humbly,
and then you will find favour with the Lord;
for great though the power of the Lord is,
he accepts the homage of the humble.

There is no cure for the proud man's malady,
since an evil growth has taken root in him.

The heart of a sensible man will reflect on parables,
an attentive ear is the sage's dream.

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 67:4-7. 10-11. R. v.11

(R.) God, in your goodness, you have made a home for the poor.

1. The just shall rejoice at the presence of God,
they shall exult and dance for joy.

O sing to the Lord, make music to his name;
rejoice in the Lord, exult at his presence. (R.)

2. Father of the orphan, defender of the widow, such is God in his holy place.

God gives the lonely a home to live in;
he leads the prisoners forth into freedom. (R.)

3. You poured down, O God, a generous rain:
when your people were starved you gave them new life.
It was there that your people found a home,
prepared in your goodness, O God, for the poor. (R.)

Second Reading

Hebrews 12:18-19, 22-24

A reading from the letter to the Hebrews

You have to come to Mount Zion and to the city of the living God.

What you have come to is nothing known to the senses: not a blazing fire, or a gloom turning to total darkness, or a storm; or trumpeting thunder or the great voice speaking which made everyone that heard it beg that no more should be said to them. But what you have come to is Mount Zion and the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem where the millions of angels have gathered for the festival, with the whole Church in which everyone is a 'first-born son' and a citizen of heaven. You have come to God himself, the supreme Judge, and been placed with spirits of the saints who have been made perfect; and to Jesus, the mediator who brings a new covenant.

Matthew 11:29

Alleluia, alleluia!
Take my yoke upon you;
learn from me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart.
Alleluia!

Gospel

Luke 14:1. 7-14

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke

All who exalt themselves shall be humbled and all who humble themselves shall be exalted.

On a sabbath day Jesus had gone for a meal to the house of one of the leading Pharisees; and they watched him closely. He then told the guests a parable, because he had noticed how they picked the places of honour. He said this, 'When someone invites you to a wedding feast, do not take your seat in the place of honour. A more distinguished person than you may have been invited, and the person who invited you both may come and say, "Give up your place to this man." And then, to your embarrassment, you would have to go and take the lowest place. No; when you are a guest, make your way to the lowest place and sit there, so that, when your host comes, he may say, "My friend, move up higher." In that way, everyone with you at the table will see you honoured. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and the man who humbles himself will be exalted.'

Then he said to his host, 'When you give a lunch or a dinner, do not ask your friends, brothers, relations or rich neighbours, for fear they repay your courtesy by inviting you in return. No; when you have a party, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind; that they cannot pay you back means that you are fortunate, because repayment will be made to you when the virtuous rise again.'

Communion Antiphon

Psalms 30:20

How great is the goodness, Lord,
that you keep for those who fear you.

Living gospel

What's the cost?

Jesus' message about humility is as relevant today as it was in the first century. It is part of human nature to want to fit in and to want to belong. Sometimes we are tempted to seek this acceptance at any cost. When our sense of belonging is achieved through the harming, humiliation or exploitation of others then the price is too high. When our desire for the latest fashion comes at the expense of others being able to simply live, then the price is too high. When we lift ourselves up by putting others down, then the price is too high.

Gospel reflection

In the gospel of Luke, Jesus is accused of eating with sinners and tax collectors (Lk 15) and we have an image of Jesus as always eating with the marginalised. However, today's gospel account is a more common occurrence: Jesus eating with a leading Pharisee and people of social importance. Although Jesus is depicted as frequently dining in the houses of these well-to-do people, he was probably never invited a second time!

As in today's account, Jesus made a habit of accepting the hospitality of such people and then giving them a lecture about how they should behave and reminding them who was not gathered around the table with them.

Certainly the sort of actions that don't see too many follow-up invitations! The message he dishes out to the Pharisees on this occasion is about not thinking you're more important than you really are. He tells them that it is far better to assume a lower status and to be lifted to greater prominence than it is to assume too much and have to be asked to step down to your proper status. In first century Jewish society, eating was as much a political act as it was a social one. Who you ate with was a reflection of your social and political position. To be invited to the head of the table would reflect very positively on a guest whilst being asked to assume a lower seat would be humiliating. Jesus' final teaching in this account would have been outrageous to his audience. The thought of inviting to a meal people who were in no position to reciprocate was absolutely ridiculous. But Jesus encourages his audience to give to those who cannot repay – to be graciously generous just as God gives without expecting anything in return.

Historical Context – Hospitality

In the first century, hospitality carried with it certain rules and expectations. If you were the recipient of hospitality, there was an obligation on you to return hospitality if it were within your means. Hospitality meant more than feeding people. It meant extending welcome to people even if you didn't know them. There was an obligation to extend welcome and hospitality to anyone who asked for it. Travellers knew that they could enter a village and ask for a meal and a bed and they would be provided. Jesus reinterpreted this obligation of hospitality and extended it to anyone in need.

Scriptural context – Humility and Honour

Jesus' comments about taking the place of honour at a table are introduced as being a parable. Because it is identified as a parable, we know that there is a richer meaning below the surface. In talking about places at a feast, Jesus is referring to the kingdom of God. We know that Jesus has already identified that the lowly in this world will be in a place of honour in the kingdom. His message is that those who humble themselves in this world and give hospitality to the lowly will be lifted up – exalted – in the kingdom.

Pope's theme for 2026 World Day of Peace: 'Peace be with you all'

Pope Leo XIV releases the theme for the 2026 World Day of Peace, "Peace be with you all: Towards an 'unarmed and disarming' peace," as the Vatican Publishing House produces a book entitled "And Let There Be Peace."

By Devin Watkins

The Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development released a statement on Tuesday offering details about Pope Leo XIV's chosen theme for the 2026 World Day of Peace. "Peace be with you all: Towards an 'unarmed and disarming' peace" is the theme for the annual celebration dedicated to universal peace, held on January 1, the liturgical Solemnity of Mary, the Mother of God.

The theme, noted the press release, "invites humanity to reject the logic of violence and war, and to embrace an authentic peace based on love and justice." On the evening of his election to the papacy on May 8, 2025, and on several other occasions since then, Pope Leo XIV appealed for peace with a characteristic phrase—"unarmed and disarming"—to characterize the type of peace he hopes for the world. "This peace must be unarmed, that is, not based on fear, threats or weapons," noted the press release. "And it must be disarming, capable of resolving conflicts, opening hearts and generating mutual trust, empathy and hope." "It is not enough to call for peace," it said. "We must embody it in a way of life that rejects every form of violence, whether it be visible or systemic."

The Dicastery's press release pointed to the universal call for all humanity to seek peace, no matter our religious affiliation or role in society. "The greeting of the Risen Christ, 'Peace be with you' (Jn 20:19), is an invitation addressed to everyone—believers, non-believers, political leaders and citizens—to build the Kingdom of God and to work together to build a humane and peaceful future," concluded the statement.

New book of Pope's first speeches

Separately, the Vatican Publishing House (LEV) released a new book that gathers the first public addresses of Pope Leo XIV, with their strong undertone of peace. "And Let There Be Peace! Words to the Church and the World" will hit bookshelves in English, Italian, and Spanish on August 27. A press release recalled the Pope's use of the binomial "unarmed and disarming," noting that it was first written by French monk Charles-Marie Christian de Chergé, O.C.S.O. The Abbot of the Abbey of Our Lady of Atlas in Tibhirine was martyred in 1996 alongside his six brother monks at the Cistercian Abbey in Algeria. As the press release noted, Cardinal Robert Prevost was elected Pope on May 8, the liturgical memorial of the Martyrs of Algeria. Summarizing the book's contents, the communique said Pope Leo has transmitted several of his priorities, which include "the primacy of God, the communion of the Church, and the search for peace."

CHANGE - CAN BE GOOD

ENCOUNTER YOUTH GROUP

Hello, all.

As the season of Winter ends it changes to Spring, change is often inevitable and so it is within our Parish community.

We start things, to try them out, and if the time and place isn't working we try other things, and many times after several changes we eventually find the right time and place, that works best.

Over the last five years or so, we have had a 3pm Encounter Youth group meet before 5pm Youth Mass, every 2nd and 4th Sunday of the Month. But for a variety of reasons numbers have dwindled considerably. So the Encounter Youth Group, is changing times!

The youth group currently runs on the 2nd and 4th Sunday of the month from 3pm- 5pm followed by the 5pm youth mass but this is changing.

Starting September 14th, Encounter will run after the 11am Mass on the 2nd and 4th Sunday of the month. Our youth group will run from midday to 1.30pm, with a light lunch being provided for the children.

We hope this change will encourage more youth to come.

We can't wait to see you on September 14th at 12pm in the Parish Hall and beforehand at 11am Mass.

ADORATION / EXPOSITION OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT

Adoration is quality time spent with the Lord in front of the blessed sacrament .

We added an extra adoration time period on Saturday's, for this year of Jubilee, as well as our usual Friday time period.

We are now moving the Friday Adoration to Wednesday, to align with reconciliation. So the Adoration times are Wednesday's 9:45 - 10:30 and Saturday's 9:45 - 10:30 approx.

The home and away season finished last week. Next week the Finals commence. All tippers are automatically entered into our Finals competition with prizes for each week of the Finals. Our top 5 tipsters for the season are Teresa Lincoln, Terry Roberts, Tessa Houlihan, James Barrett and Nathan Barden. One further back are Jacinta Jolly, Geoff Walsh and John Franks. Our 2025 champion will be announced next week with our second and third. As in previous years, our Final's competition will start then with more great prizes to be won.

The home and away season may be over but the AFLW has resumed highlighting the skills of our lady footballers. The AFLW competition started in 20?? with its first premiers ???? winning The ???? Cup. Jokes of the Week

1) Member of Parliament: When a member of Parliament was running hard for a second term in office , after a busy morning chasing votes (without lunch), he arrived at a church barbecue. It was late afternoon and he was famished. As he moved down the serving line, he held out his plate to the woman serving chicken. She put a piece on his plate and turned to the next person in line. "Excuse me," the politician said, "do you mind if I have another piece of chicken?" "Sorry," the woman told him. "I'm supposed to give one piece of chicken to each person because you are going to get other food items also from other servers." "But I'm starved, and I love chicken," the politician said. "Sorry," the woman said again. "Only one to a customer." The politician was a modest and unassuming man, but he decided that this time he would throw a little weight around. "Do you know who I am?" he said. "I am a member of parliament of this state!" "Do you know who I am?" the woman retorted. "I'm the lady in charge of the chicken. Move along, mister."

2) Winston Churchill was once asked, "Doesn't it thrill you to know that every time you make a speech, the hall is packed to overflowing?" "It's quite flattering," replied Sir Winston. "But whenever I feel that way, I always remember that if instead of making a political speech I were being hanged, the crowd would be twice as big."
