Reflection on First Year of Ordination

Before I was ordained a deacon by Bishop Terry Curtin, we caught up over tea one afternoon, and he said something that's always stuck in my head. "Never stop learning from those you minister to." When I think of the last year of priesthood, it's this line that comes to mind.

Despite the years of study preparing for ordination, it's through this community that I have learnt the most. Every day of the last year has given me something new. Every day has taught me more about what it means to be a priest. Every day has taught me how to be a better Christian.

More than this, though, has been the sense of community. Having only been here for two and a half years (and most of that through lockdowns!), I have come to feel very at home. I've been welcomed into your homes, into your families, and into your lives. It is an honour and a privilege to walk alongside you on our communal journey of faith.

It's for these, and many other, reasons that I pray in thanksgiving this weekend for this community. Being a member of the St Paul Apostle Parish has been an absolute blessing. I know that no matter where the future takes me, this community will always hold a very special place in my heart, and I thank each and every one of you who has walked this beginning of my vocational journey with me

After School Religious Education Program (ASRE)

All children who are in this program, this is a reminder to you that your last class is on Tuesday 12 July. This will be followed by last Family Night in the Church on Tuesday, 26 July at 7pm. Attendance on all dates is compulsory.

PYX (small golden box for taking communion to the sick)

We noticed that there are no single pyx (which belong to the Church) left in the cupboard in the sacristy.

If you have borrowed one of them and forgotten to return it to the Church, please return it to the sacristy the next time you come to Church. They are quite small and easily overlooked.

We need them desperately as we resume visiting those who are unable to attend Church.

(please see the picture attached to see what it looks like)

PROJECT COMPASSION

Finally most of the Project Compassion collection boxes have been returned. A total of $3,586.15 was raised due to your kind efforts and has been transferred to Caritas to aid with their work. Thank you to our parishioners who have generously supported this great course. If you have asked for a receipt, they are now available in the sacristy, in an envelope with your name on it.
