First Reading

Deuteronomy 4:32-34. 39-40

A reading from the book of Deuteronomy

The Lord himself is God in heaven above and on earth below: there is no other.

Moses said to the people: 'Put this question to the ages that are past, that went before you, from the time God created man on earth: Was there ever a word so majestic, from one end of heaven to the other? Was anything ever heard? Did ever a people hear the voice of the living God speaking from the heart of the fire, as you heard it, and remain alive? Has any god ventured to take to himself one nation from the midst of another by ordeals, signs, wonders, war with mighty hand and outstretched arm, by fearsome terrors – all this that the Lord your God did for you before your eyes in Egypt? 'Understand this today, therefore, and take it to heart: The Lord is God indeed, in heaven above as on earth beneath, he and no other. Keep his laws and commandments as I give them to you today so that you and your children may prosper and live long in the land that the Lord your God gives you for ever.'

A Responsorial Psalm

Ps 32:4-6. 9. 18-20. 22. R. v.12

(R.) Happy the people the Lord has chosen to be his own.

1. The word of the Lord is faithful and all his works to be trusted. The Lord loves justice and right and fills the earth with his love. (R.)
2. With his word the heavens were made, by the breath of his mouth all the stars.
He spoke; and they came to be. He commanded; they sprang into being. (R.)
3. The Lord looks on those who revere him, on those who hope in his love, to rescue their souls from death, to keep them alive in famine. (R.)
4. Our soul is waiting for the Lord. The Lord is our help and our shield. May your love be upon us, O Lord, as we place all our hope in you. (R.)

Second Reading

Romans 8:14-17

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Romans

You have received the Spirit that makes you God's own children, and in that Spirit we call God: Father, our Father!

Everyone moved by the Spirit is a son of God. The spirit you received is not the spirit of slaves bringing fear into your lives again; it is the spirit of sons, and it makes us cry out, 'Abba, Father!' The Spirit himself and our spirit bear united witness that we are children of God. And if we are children we are heirs as well: heirs of God and coheirs with Christ, sharing his sufferings so as to share his glory.

Gospel Acclamation

See Revelation 1:8

Alleluia, alleluia!

Glory to the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit:
to God who is, who was, and who is to come.

Alleluia!

Gospel

Matthew 28:16-20

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

Baptise them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.

The eleven disciples set out for Galilee, to the mountain where Jesus had arranged to meet them. When they saw him they fell down before him, though some hesitated. Jesus came up and spoke to them. He said, 'All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go, therefore, make disciples of all the nations; baptise them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teach them to observe all the commands I gave you. And know that I am with you always; yes, to the end of time.'

The Creed is said.

Communion Antiphon

Galatians 4:6

Since you are children of God,
God has sent into your hearts the Spirit of his Son,
the Spirit who cries out: Abba, Father.

Historical

context

I believe

The word 'Trinity' does not appear anywhere in the New Testament although one can certainly see the beginnings of ideas about a Trinitarian God. It was not until 325, at the Council of Nicea, that the doctrine of the trinity was established as being orthodox teaching. This council sought to officially define the relationship between the Father and the Son as a response to the arguments of Arius (later known as Arian heresy). The statement of beliefs developed by this council in 325 is the Creed (credo – I believe) that is used in Catholic churches around the world today.

Gospel Reflection

The Easter season celebrates some of the most important events and beliefs in Christian tradition. In the last seven weeks, we have remembered Jesus' Last Supper with his friends (regarded as the institution or establishment of the Eucharist); Jesus' death on the cross; the discovery of the empty tomb on Easter Sunday; the appearances of the Risen Lord to his disciples; the Ascension into heaven; and finally, the Holy Spirit filling the disciples at Pentecost. They are events that have shaped Christian belief for nearly 2,000 years. They provide the basis of beliefs and teachings such as: Christ present in the Eucharist; the resurrection of Jesus and the hope of resurrection for all people; the divinity of Jesus; and the ongoing action of the Holy Spirit in the world. The period of Easter-

Pentecost celebrates these truly momentous events, beliefs and teachings.

Almost to round off this extraordinary focus on Christian beliefs and teachings, the Church this week celebrates the central doctrine of Christian faith: the Trinity. The belief in the Trinity is the belief that there are three 'persons' in the one Godhead: Father; Son; and Holy Spirit. The understanding and articulation of this doctrine occurred over time and was not until well after the writing of the gospels and other New Testament letters. Consequently, there are no specific scriptural passages that identify explicitly the doctrine of the Trinity. This week's gospel passage, the commissioning of the disciples from the Gospel of Matthew is perhaps the closest any New Testament writer comes to an expression of the Trinity when Jesus instructs the disciples to baptise 'in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit'.

Living the Gospel – The Sign of the Cross

Jesus' instruction that the disciples go out to all the nations and baptise them 'in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit' is an instruction that is still being carried on today. Those precise words are used by the priest at every baptism. They are also the words used in the sign of the cross – whether that is a personal, private blessing of oneself or a blessing of a group as in the introductory and dismissal rites as part of a Eucharistic celebration. When we make the sign of the cross we use the words of Jesus.

Pope: Church open to all, but 'no' to blessings of same-sex unions

In an interview with the U.S. broadcaster CBS, Pope Francis emphasizes that the Church welcomes everyone, while clarifying aspects regarding blessings authorized by "Fiducia Supplicans". He also criticizes surrogacy, condemns ideologies and reiterates his appeal to warring nations to find negotiated solutions to conflict.

By Salvatore Cernuzio

Pope Francis reiterated his vision of an open Church and the principle of inclusiveness, central to his pontificate, during an interview with Norah O'Donnell, Director of CBS Evening News. Recorded at Santa Marta on April 24 and aired in part on the program "60 Minutes." "The Gospel is for everyone," he said, including all sinners, and warned that if the Church sets up "customs checkpoints", it ceases to be the Church of Christ. Regarding the issue of blessings of same-sex unions mentioned in the doctrinal document Fiducia Supplicans, he clarified that while blessings are for individuals, same-sex unions cannot be blessed because it would go against "the law of the Church".

Surrogacy is a business

Regarding homosexuality, called the Pope's affirmation "homosexuality is not a human condition" he condemned surrogacy, become a business, and very negative." The journalist pointed out that he for some women, are ill, it could be the only hope.

the journalist re-

tion," the Pope re-

The other hope is adoption, urging not to bypass the moral principle and suggesting adoption as an alternative, and adherence to moral principles.

Criticism from "conservatives"

Responding to a question on criticism from some conservative bishops in the U.S., Pope Francis said "A conservative is someone who clings to something and does not want to see beyond. It is a suicidal attitude because one thing is to take tradition into account and consider past situations, another is to lock oneself in a dogmatic box."

Appeal for peace

In the interview, conducted in the run-up to World Children's Day on May 25 and 26 in Rome, the focus shifted to children, starting with those suffering in war: in Gaza, in Ukraine, to the children who "have forgotten how to smile," the Pope repeated. Thus he again voiced his appeal to countries at war: "Everyone, stop. Stop the war. You must find a way to negotiate peace. Strive to achieve peace. A negotiated peace is always better than an endless war... Please, stop. Negotiate."

Condemnation of ideologies

Focusing on the conflict in Israel and Gaza, university campus protests, and rising anti-Semitism, Pope Francis reiterated that "Every ideology is bad, and antisemitism is an ideology, and it is bad. Every 'anti' is always bad. You can criticize one government or another, the Israeli government, or the Palestinian government. You can criticize as much as you want, but not be 'anti' a people. Neither anti-Palestinian nor antisemitic."

No tolerance for abuse

The interview also touches on the issue of abuses within the Church, a crime the Pope repeats that "cannot be tolerated." At the same time, he acknowledged that more needs to be done, because "unfortunately the tragedy of abuse is enormous" and it must be ensured that it not only gets punished but never happens again.

Jokes of the Week

1: Wisdom from child's mouth: A priest went into a second-grade classroom of the parish school and asked, "Who can tell me what the Blessed Trinity means?" A little girl lisped, "The Blethed Twinity meanth there are thwee perthonth in one God." The priest, taken aback by the lisp, said, "Would you say that again? I don't understand what you said." The little girl answered, "Y'not thuppothed to under-thtand; 't'th a myhtewy."

(Another version: At confirmation, the Archbishop asked the children for a definition of the Holy Trinity. A girl answered very softly – "The Ho-ly Trinity is three persons in one God." The Archbishop, who was rather old and almost deaf, replied, "I didn't understand what you said." And the young theologian standing in front of him replied: "Well, Your Excellency, you are not supposed to. The Trinity is a mystery. No-body understands it.)"

2: Trinitarian pastor: One parishioner said, "The Trinitarian God is a lot like our pastor. I don't see him through the week, and I don't understand him on Sunday."

3: God Is Everywhere: A pastor was trying to explain to a little Sunday school child that God is calling people everywhere in the world to believe in him. "God is much bigger than we imagine him to be and God can use all of us in lots of different ways to do his work everywhere," the pastor said. "God is everywhere!" "Everywhere?" asked the little boy. "Everywhere!" said the pastor. The boy went home and told his mother, "God is everywhere! The pastor said so." "Yes, I know," said the mother. "You mean He is even in the cupboard?" "Yes," said the mother. "In the refrigerator — even when we close the door and the light goes out?" "Yes," said the mother. "Even in the sugar bowl?" the lad asked as he took the lid off. "Yes," said the mother, "even in the sugar bowl." The boy slammed down the lid and said, "Now I've got Him!"

THANK YOU

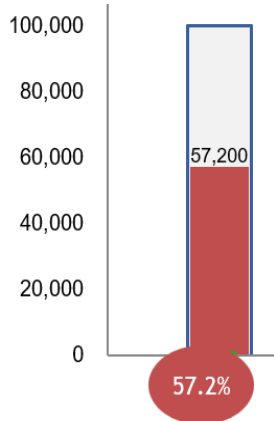

To Michael Puryer, Mark Stevens, Alwyn Azzopardi & Fr An

For helping to move over 40 heavy pews from the Church into two sheds. What a back-breaking job it was! But it was made a little easier with the great foresight of Frank Crea to borrow some brick-layers trolleys - Well done Frank.

I pray all their aches and pains will disappear soon.

St Vincent de Paul Winter Appeal

As winter is fast approaching, the disadvantaged in our community will need your help even more.

Please be generous at the St Vincent de Paul leaving collection at Masses on 1/2 June.

URGENT!! APPEAL FOR HELP!

The Parish has a Family (Mother, Father & teenage son), who I personally vouch for, as a terrific Family, but who have fallen on difficult times and need affordable rental accommodation.

Could the individual that expressed the possibility of being able to help please contact Fr Geoff.

This is urgent, so if you can help, please contact me 59752200.

THANKSGIVING CAMPAIGN

In the coming weeks, we will commence our Offering Campaign in our parish community, which will run over a three-week period. Giving generously is a way to deepen our faith and is a vital part of our identity as Christian worshippers. You are encouraged to engage prayerfully with the content presented and provided over this time and we look forward to growing and going deeper in our relationship with Christ through this process.

Personalized Pledge Packs can be found in the church foyer—they are arranged alphabetically by surnames.

There are also blank packs available if you would like to start donating.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The ceiling in the Church above the altar and in the annex, will be getting painted, so those sections of the Church will be closed off for two weeks.

Weekday Masses will continue, as will Saturday night 6pm and Sunday 5pm, as all have less than 180 people and we can still use the original section of church and the choir loft.

However on Sunday 26th May and Sunday 2nd June there will be

NO 9am or 11am Masses in the Church.

Instead, they will be held at the St Macartan's School Hall, 97 Bungower Rd.

16 May 2024

Dear Bishops, Fathers and Deacons,

My prayerful greetings to you in the Lord. I write to you today to provide an update on some significant public policy issues at state and federal level.

Prayer in Parliament

For more than 100 years, the Victorian Parliament has commenced its daily proceedings with prayer. It is a simple reminder that parliament is not the ultimate authority for building a just and caring society. Together with an Acknowledgement of Country, the recitation of the Lord's Prayer provides a vital link to important facets of our heritage. Regrettably, there has been a renewed push by some state parliamentarians to end this long-standing practice. In response, I have joined with other religious leaders to write to all members of the Victorian Parliament about the fundamental and ongoing importance of prayer in parliament. Please see letter attached.

There are some simple ways parishioners can show support for keeping the Lord's Prayer in parliament and I ask you to encourage your parishioners to consider adding their voice to this cause. Material that can be included in your parish bulletins and other communication channels are included in the accompanying email.

Religious Discrimination

At the last federal election, the Prime Minister committed to make changes to Australia's anti-discrimination laws. In engaging with the Government and Opposition on these laws, it has been important to be clear that we cannot support any proposals that would send religious freedom in Australia backwards. It has also been imperative to work together with other religious leaders to set out our real and serious concerns with the current proposals and provide options to address these concerns. This will reach a critical point in Federal Parliament in coming days.

Misinformation and Disinformation Laws

Last year, the Australian Government published a draft bill seeking to tackle so-called 'misinformation' and 'disinformation' on digital platforms. There are serious problems with the bill, most particularly a lack of acknowledgement of how communications made in good faith and on the basis of deeply held beliefs contribute to the common good. I have spoken several times now directly with the responsible Minister on this issue and hope to see a new draft of the bill in coming months, that takes into account the feedback received.

Census

Earlier this year, the Australian Bishops Conference became aware that the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) planned to change the way it asks Australians about their religious identification at the 2026 Census. These changes would have the effect of disengaging religion from culture and identity. The Conference has written to the ABS to strongly oppose the change and I have met with the responsible Minister to directly express my concerns with the proposal and will continue to engage with the Government on this issue.

“Voluntary Assisted Dying”

Earlier this year, a five-year review into Victoria's Voluntary Assisted Dying Act 2017 began. Our submission to this review reiterated both our inability to participate in or cooperate with euthanasia and assisted suicide, and our unwaveringly commitment to compassionate accompaniment of those dying. As well as highlighting the failure of care that euthanasia and assisted suicide represent and serious issues with the so-called “safeguards” mandated in the Act, we advocated for improved access to palliative care, for current provisions for conscientious objection to be maintained and for no expansion of the regime.

There continues to be serious and ongoing work needed to ensure religious freedom – and indeed the role of faith – in our nation and state are not diminished or restricted. It is a work we are all called to involved in, and I ask for your continued prayers for the Church's engagement in these matters.

May the gift of the Holy Spirit, who confirms us in the life of Christ, be with you and your people.

With every grace and blessing, I remain,

Yours sincerely in Christ Jesus,

Most Rev Peter A Comensoli
Archbishop of Melbourne

Hi All,

Just forwarding onto you some information for those in your church communities. I run a Mens Network through the shire we support local grassroots mens organisations across our community. They have initiated a number of events across Mens Health Week and I am just promoting to you. There is also a link here to book in for some of the events too that require booking. Men's Health Week 2024 by Mornington Peninsula Shire | Eventbrite

Happy Sad Man is a really beautiful film and has a rating of M they encourage families and younger boys to attend. It will be screened free at a screening in Frankston and on The Mornington Peninsula. The director will be attending both screenings for a Q&A following the film.

I also would be very happy for any of you to pass on the details of the Mens network to anyone involved in men's ministries in your churches they would be most welcome to attend our meetings and get involved. We meet four times a year and it's an opportunity to share what your doing and cross promote as well as be involved in establishing events and activities for men's health week and movember etc etc. REBEKAH POPPLEWELL | Youth & Families Development Officer
