First Reading

Ezekiel 17:22-24

A reading from the prophet Ezekiel

I have made the small tree great.

The Lord says this: 'From the top of the cedar, from the highest branch I will take a shoot and plant it myself on a very high mountain. I will plant it on the high mountain of Israel.

It will sprout branches and bear fruit, and become a noble cedar.

Every kind of bird will live beneath it, every winged creature rest in the shade of its branches.

And every tree of the field will learn that I, the Lord, am the one who stunts tall trees and makes the low ones grow, who withers green trees and makes the withered green.

I, the Lord, have spoken, and I will do it.'

A Responsorial Psalm

Ps 91:2-3. 13-16. R. see v.2

(R.) Lord, it is good to give thanks to you.

1. It is good to give thanks to the Lord to make music to your name, O Most High,
to proclaim your love in the morning
and your truth in the watches of the night. (R.)

2. The just will flourish like the palm-tree and grow like a Lebanon cedar. (R.)

3. Planted in the house of the Lord
they will flourish in the courts of our God, still bearing fruit when they are old,
still full of sap, still green,
to proclaim that the Lord is just.
In him, my rock, there is no wrong. (R.)

Second Reading

2 Corinthians 5:6-10

A reading from the second letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

Whether we are living in the body or exiled from it, we are intent on pleasing the Lord.

We are always full of confidence when we remember that to live in the body means to be exiled from the Lord, going as we do by faith and not by sight – we are full of confidence, I say, and actually want to be exiled from the body and make our home with the Lord.

Whether we are living in the body or exiled from it, we are intent on pleasing him. For all the truth about us will be brought out in the law court of Christ, and each of us will get what he deserves for the things he did in the body, good or bad.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

The seed is the word of God, Christ is the sower;
all who come to him will live for ever.

Alleluia!

Gospel

Mark 4:26-34

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark

The mustard seed, the smallest of all the seeds, grows into the biggest shrub of all.

Jesus said to the crowds, 'This is what the kingdom of God is like. A man throws seed on the land. Night and day, while he sleeps, when he is awake, the seed is sprouting and growing; how, he does not know. Of its own accord the land produces first the shoot, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear. And when the crop is ready, he loses no time; he starts to reap because the harvest has come.'

He also said, 'What can we say the kingdom of God is like? What parable can we find for it? It is like a mustard seed which at the time of its sowing in the soil is the smallest of all the seeds on earth; yet once it is sown it grows into the biggest shrub of them all and puts out big branches so that the birds of the air can shelter in its shade.'

Using many parables like these, he spoke the word to them, so far as they were capable of understanding it. He would not speak to them except in parables, but he explained everything to his disciples when they were alone.

Communion Antiphon

Psalm 26:4

There is one thing I ask of the Lord, only this do I seek:
to live in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

gospel focus

The Kingdom of God

The references to the kingdom of God in the gospels always carry a paradox. It exists in the present, yet is something to be achieved in the future. It is here, but not yet. If we live 'as if' we are living in the kingdom here and now then we hasten its coming. The kingdom of God is not a place but a way in which the world operates. It is a kingdom that is ruled by justice and gives precedence to those who are regarded as nothing in the world. It is a kingdom of promise and hope that inspires and calls all people to more than they currently are.

Gospel Reflection

This week's gospel is a wonderful example of the teaching style of Jesus. It even tells us that 'he would not speak to them except in parables'. Jesus used the parable form almost exclusively to share his message. He used imagery that was familiar to his audience; parables about the everyday life of a rural community: seeds, planting, growing, harvesting. The secret of Jesus' parables, when we understand the cultural context, is that there was always a 'twist in the tale' – what is called a 'discombobulating shift' – that turns the expected outcome of the story on its head. This is nowhere more evident than in the image of the mustard seed. On the surface the parable is about the kingdom of God starting from very small, humble beginnings and growing into something great. However, immediately prior to this kingdom parable, Jesus has reminded us that the community makes a living out of growing grain crops like wheat for bread, etc. His parable about the mustard seed describes a tiny seed that grows into a great shrub 'so that the birds of the air can shelter in its shade'. A farming community that was growing grain crops would be greatly alarmed at the thought of actually attracting birds to their fields or even nearby. Jesus' message about the kingdom of God is that it is actually disruptive and invasive. The kingdom brings unrest and disquiet to the predictable. The kingdom of God is unsettling. This is a much more challenging parable than it appears from a literal reading.

Scriptural context – Kingdom Parables

Jesus sought to describe the kingdom of God by comparison and analogy – 'The kingdom of God is like ...'; 'To what can we compare the kingdom of God?' He never gave a lecture about the kingdom, rather, he painted a picture in terms that were readily recognised by his audience but forced them to think differently about the image he used. It forced them to think about themselves and their world in a different way. Kingdom parables begin innocently enough with a familiar image but very quickly shift to a challenge about the way we normally perceive things. The kingdom is often portrayed as a contradiction.

Living the Gospel – Seed on the land

The first parable in the gospel passage describes the unerring work of the kingdom. It is like the seed that almost magically transforms into a fully grown plant that may be harvested – apparently without any external forces. Of course, we know that plants need to be fed, watered, weeded and nurtured to ensure their proper growth. However, the kingdom of God works in our lives in a similar way – if we feed and nurture it, the kingdom will produce a great harvest. Even if we don't pay it attention, the kingdom is present and acting in our world.

Vatican Observatory conference to focus on black holes and gravitational waves

The Vatican Observatory will host the Second international conference celebrating the legacy of Belgian physicist and priest, Msgr. Georges Lemaître, focusing on areas of research he pioneered that have led to new understanding of black holes, gravitational waves and space-time singularities.

By Thaddeus Jones

The Vatican Observatory will soon host a conference to discuss the latest research and discoveries regarding black holes, gravitational waves and space-time singularities. The conference workshop marks the second international conference celebrating the legacy of Belgian physicist and priest, Msgr. Georges Lemaître, who pioneered the theory of the Big Bang, influencing great thinkers of his time, including theoretical physicist Albert Einstein.

The meeting will take place from 17 to 21 June in Castel Gandolfo, just southeast of Rome where the Vatican Observatory headquarters are located. The Director of the Vatican Observatory, Jesuit Br. Guy Consolmagno, presented the workshop and its agenda together with members of the Scientific Organizing Committee during a press conference on 11 June at the Holy See Press Office.

The conference aims to build on the first meeting that took place in 2017 looking at the legacy of Msgr. Lemaître and how his insights are reflected in the latest research and discoveries in areas of cosmology, the enigmatic nature of spacetime singularities encompassing the Big Bang and black holes, along with the gravitational waves they produce, and complex topics regarding quantum gravity, entanglement and foundations of quantum theory. The primary goal of the meeting is to encourage discussion on the latest developments in theory and observation so that new ideas and insights can be shared.

Among the 40 participants at the meeting are Nobel Laureates Adam Riess and Roger Penrose; cosmologists and theoretical physicists Andrei Linde, Joseph Silk, Wendy Freedman, Licia Verde, Cumrun Vafa and the Fields Medal recipient Edward Witten.

The Vatican Observatory is one of the oldest active astronomical observatories in the world, with its roots going back to 1582 and the Gregorian reform of the calendar. A dozen priests and brothers (Jesuits and diocesan) from four continents study the universe utilizing modern scientific methods, along with adjunct scholars (clergy and lay men and women) from various scientific disciplines, and scientists at major astronomical institutions around the world.

Jokes of the Week

1) Tiny killer of a giant bulldog: President Reagan loves to tell the story of a lady who knocked on a man's door and said, "Do you own a black Pit Bulldog?" The man said, "Yes." Well, the lady said, "I have to tell you, it's dead." The man demanded, "What do you mean it's dead? What happened?" And the lady said, "My Pekinese killed it." And the man said, "Your tiny Pekinese killed it? How?" She said, "It got stuck in his throat."

2) A visitor to the Vatican was quite impressed with the beauty and power of the place. He asked Pope John XXIII this question: "How many people do you have working here?" With a twinkle in his eye, the pope replied, "About half of them."

3) A small fellow, not much over 5 feet tall, applied for a job as a lumberjack in Alaska. The foreman, thinking to discourage him, gave him a large axe, set him before a tree hundreds of feet tall, and yards in diameter, and told him to chop it down. Within minutes the tree had been felled. The amazed foreman asked him where he'd learned to chop trees so powerfully. The little fellow replied, "When I worked in the Sahara forest." "You mean, the Sahara Desert." "That was after I got there," said the small lumberjack.

4) A third grader taught the teacher an important truth: The teacher asked, "How many great people were born in our city?" "None," replied the pupil. "There were no great people born. They were born babies who became great people."

5) A small farming village was threatened with drought because the rains had failed to arrive. On a hot and dry Sunday, the pastor told his congregation, "There isn't anything that will save us except to pray for rain. Go home, pray, believe, and come back next Sunday ready to thank God for sending rain." The people returned to church the following Sunday. As they sat down the Pastor gently rebuked them. "We can't worship today because you do not yet believe," he said. "But we prayed" they protested, "and we do believe." "Believe?" he responded. "Then where are your umbrellas?"

Parish Footy Tipping Competition

Round 12 proved one of the toughest for our tippers in the long history of our competition. In fact, after the first 5 games, 15 tippers had 0/5. After the 8 games Carolyn Meier Irene Hackett and Chris Houlihan were our best with 6. On a crowded leader board Mel Fisher has been joined in the lead by Lachlan Jolly. They are 1 in front of Chris and Debbie with another 1 to our next 3 and another 1 to the next 4. Last week we enjoyed the 10th replication of the Big Freeze (don't say! Do). Its face is Neale Daniher fighting MND. Neale and his 3 brothers played a total of 752 VFL/AFL matches with only once, back in 1990, playing together. Do you know which VFL/AFL teams they played for during their careers?

Excelsis Choir:

Thank you to all the performers and organizers involved in last week's Excelsis choir performance. The afternoon was delightful and enjoyed by many. Thank you to all the Parishioners that attended.

We would also like to express our gratitude to Bernadette Cross, who organized a lovely afternoon tea following the performance.

THANKSGIVING CAMPAIGN

Over the next three weekends we will have our Offertory Giving Campaign. We begin by asking you to take your Personalized Pledge Packs which can be found in the church foyer, these are arranged alphabetically based on Surnames.

There are also blank packs available if you would like to start donating.

THIS WEEKEND 15th/16th June : At these weekend masses (SAT 6PM, SUN 9AM & SUN 11AM), there will be a brief informative talk regarding the Thanksgiving Campaign.

Giving generously is a way to deepen our faith and is a vital part of our identity as Christian worshippers. You are encouraged to engage prayerfully with the content presented and provided over this time and we look forward to growing and going deeper in our relationship with Christ through this process.

THANKSGIVING PLEDGE PACK CONTENTS:

Within your pledge packs, you will find the following items

- A letter from Fr Geoff,
 - A chart on proportional giving based on income
 - A guide on each account you can donate to &
 - A pledge card to fill in your details & nominate how much you would like to pledge
- If you are already a giver or completed the last Parish census, your pledge card may look something like example 1 on the next Page.

If you have not yet pledged and have not completed last year's census, your pledge card may look like Example 2 on the next Page.

If you require help or have any questions, Cherrie will be in the community centre for one hour after 9am Mass on Thursday to offer assistance, otherwise, please contact the Parish office.

Bequests

Leaving a gift in your Will is a lasting testament to your values; ensuring that your dedication to improving the lives of others can continue for future generations.

We understand that providing for loved ones comes first, but even a small percentage of your estate left to the Parish can make a huge difference for our community, especially for those who are struggling with life's challenges also it will assist in the future growth of the Parish.

If you intend to leave a gift to the Parish in your Will, we'd love to know so that we can express our appreciation and gratitude. We would also like to have a bequest plaque created and displayed for you, on a Church memorial wall. Any information you provide will always be treated with the utmost respect for your privacy.

Thank you

The Parish would like to express our heartfelt thanks to all benefactors - your generosity will enable the Parish to help future generations and give all people in our community the opportunity to enjoy 'life to the full'.

Saturday 14 September 2024

is the 15th Anniversary of the Wall to Wall Ride

The Wall to Wall Ride for Remembrance is run in September each year in the lead up to National Police Remembrance Day to remember and honour our fallen colleagues, to raise funds for police legacies and to promote safe and lawful motorcycling. Groups of riders will depart from every capital city coming together in Canberra to ride as one group to the National Police Memorial for a ceremony honouring their fallen.

As a Police Chaplain I am proud to serve those people who serve us - that is, the Women and Men of our Police Force. The Wall-to-Wall ride of remembrance is one way I have of helping raise funds for associated organisations connected to the Police Force and as well as showing my personal support by riding with them. I think we all owe a great deal of gratitude to our Police force and for their support of agencies such as the Police Legacy and other worthwhile groups.

Victoria Police Legacy is a charitable not-for-profit organisation that provides a range of services to police families throughout Victoria who have suffered the loss of a loved one. Should a serving or retired police officer or protective services officer, or their spouse/partner pass away, Victoria Police Legacy is there to provide ongoing support to the spouse/partner and children.*
