18th Sunday in Ordinary Time —2nd and 3rd of August 2025

Gospel Reflection – Luke 12:13–21

This Gospel begins with a man asking Jesus to sort out a family dispute over inheritance. It's the kind of thing many of us can relate to—real-life concerns, money matters, family tensions.

But Jesus doesn't answer the question the way the man expects. Instead, He tells a parable. A story about a wealthy farmer who has a good harvest—so good, in fact, that he doesn't have enough room to store it. So he pulls down his barns and builds bigger ones, planning to take it easy and enjoy life. But that very night, his life is demanded of him.

It's a confronting parable. Not because the man was rich—but because he lived as if all he had was his, and as if he had all the time in the world. He gave no thought to God, to others, or to what his life was really for.

Jesus isn't condemning success or hard work. He's inviting us to look deeper—to ask ourselves: What am I building my life on? Am I storing up things that will last? Or am I clinging to what won't follow me beyond the grave?

We spend so much of our lives chasing security, comfort, and control. But none of that will matter in the end if we haven't lived with open hands and a generous heart. So perhaps this week, we could ask ourselves: What would it look like to be "rich in the sight of God"? Not in possessions—but in love, mercy, and a life shared with others. Because in the end, that's what we take with us. And that's what lasts.

With every blessing, Fr Jerald

Readings for 18th Sunday in Ordinary Time—2nd and 3rd of Aug 2025

First Reading

Ecclesiastes 1:2; 2:21-23

A reading from the book of Ecclesiastes

Vanity of vanities, the Preacher says. Vanity of vanities. All is vanity!

For so it is that a man who has laboured wisely, skilfully and successfully must leave what is his own to someone who has not toiled for it at all. This, too, is vanity and great injustice; for what does he gain for all the toil and strain that he has undergone under the sun? What of all his laborious days, his cares of office, his restless nights? This, too, is vanity.

Responsorial Psalm Ps 89

In every age, O Lord, you have been our refuge.

Second Reading

Colossians 3:1-5, 9-11

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Colossians

Since you have been brought back to true life with Christ, you must look for the things that are in heaven, where Christ is, sitting at God's right hand. Let your thoughts be on heavenly things, not on the things that are on the earth, because you have died, and now the life you have is hidden with Christ in God. But when Christ is revealed – and he is your life – you too will be revealed in all your glory with him.

That is why you must kill everything in you that belongs only to earthly life: fornication, impurity, guilty passion, evil desires and especially greed, which is the same thing as worshipping a false god; and never tell each other lies. You have stripped off your old behaviour with your old self, and you have put on a new self which will progress towards true knowledge the more it is renewed in the image of its creator; and in that image there is no room for distinction between Greek and Jew, between the circumcised or the uncircumcised, or between barbarian and Scythian, slave and free man. There is only Christ: he is everything and he is in everything.

Gospel Acclamation :

Alleluia, alleluia! Happy the poor in spirit; the kingdom of heaven is theirs! Alleluia!

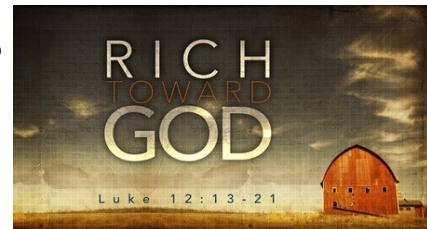

Gospel

Luke 12:13-21

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke

A man in the crowd said to Jesus, 'Master, tell my brother to give me a share of our inheritance.' 'My friend,' he replied, 'who appointed me your judge, or the arbitrator of your claims?' Then he said to them, 'Watch, and be on your guard against avarice of any kind, for a man's life is not made secure by what he owns, even when he has more than he needs.'

Then he told them a parable: 'There was once a rich man who, having had a good harvest from his land, thought to himself, "What am I to do? I have not enough room to store my crops." Then he said, "This is what I will do; I will pull down my barns and build bigger ones, and store all my grain and my goods in them, and I will say to my soul: My soul, you have plenty of good things laid by for many years to come; take things easy, eat, drink, have a good time." But God said to him, "Fool! This very night the demand will be made for your soul; and this hoard of yours, whose will it be then?" So it is when a man stores up treasure for himself in place of making himself rich in the sight of God.'
