First Reading

Acts of the Apostles 12:1-11

A reading from the Acts of the Apostles

Now I know it is indeed true: the Lord has saved me from the power of Herod.

King Herod started persecuting certain members of the Church. He beheaded James the brother of John, and when he saw that this pleased the Jews he decided to arrest Peter as well. This was during the days of Unleavened Bread, and he put Peter in prison, assigning four squads of four soldiers each to guard him in turns. Herod meant to try Peter in public after the end of Passover week. All the time Peter was under guard the Church prayed to God for him unremittingly.

On the night before Herod was to try him, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, fastened with double chains, while guards kept watch at the main entrance to the prison. Then suddenly the angel of the Lord stood there, and the cell was filled with light. He tapped Peter on the side and woke him. 'Get up!' he said 'Hurry!' – and the chains fell from his hands. The angel then said, 'Put on your belt and sandals.' After he had done this, the angel next said, 'Wrap your cloak round you and follow me.' Peter followed him, but had no idea that what the angel did was all happening in reality; he thought he was seeing a vision. They passed through two guard posts one after the other, and reached the iron gate leading to the city. This opened of its own accord; they went through it and had walked the whole length of one street when suddenly the angel left him. It was only then that Peter came to himself. 'Now I know it is all true,' he said. 'The Lord really did send his angel and has saved me from Herod and from all that the Jewish people were so certain would happen to me.'

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 33:2-9. R. v.5

(R.) The Lord set me free from all my fears.

1. I will bless the Lord at all times
his praise always on my lips;
in the Lord my soul shall make its boast.
The humble shall hear and be glad. (R.)

2. Glorify the Lord with me.
Together let us praise his name.
I sought the Lord and he answered me;
from all my terrors he set me free. (R.)

3. Look towards him and be radiant;
let your faces not be abashed.
This poor man called; the Lord heard him
and rescued him from all his distress. (R.)

4. The angel of the Lord is encamped around those who revere him, to rescue them.
Taste and see that the Lord is good.
He is happy who seeks refuge in him. (R.)

Second Reading

2 Timothy 4:6-8, 17-18

A reading from the second letter of St Paul to Timothy

All that remains now is the crown of righteousness.

My life is already being poured away as a libation, and the time has come for me to be gone. I have fought the good fight to the end; I have run the race to the finish; I have kept the faith; all there is to come now is the crown of righteousness reserved for me, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give to me on that Day; and not only to me but to all those who have longed for his Appearing.

The Lord stood by me and gave me power, so that through me the whole message might be proclaimed for all the pagans to hear; and so I was rescued from the lion's mouth. The Lord will rescue me from all evil attempts on me, and bring me safely to his heavenly kingdom. To him be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Gospel Acclamation

Matthew 16:18

Alleluia, alleluia!

You are Peter, the rock on which I will build my Church;
the gates of hell will not hold out against it.

Alleluia!

Gospel

Matthew 16:13-19

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

You are Peter, and I will give to you the keys of the kingdom of heaven.

When Jesus came to the region of Caesarea Philippi he put this question to his disciples, 'Who do people say the Son of Man is?' And they said, 'Some say he is John the Baptist, some Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets.' 'But you,' he said, 'who do you say I am?' Then Simon Peter spoke up, 'You are the Christ,' he said, 'the Son of the living God.' Jesus replied, 'Simon son of Jonah, you are a happy man! Because it was not flesh and blood that revealed this to you but my Father in heaven. So I now say to you: You are Peter and on this rock I will build my Church. And the gates of the underworld can never hold out against it. I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven: whatever you bind on earth shall be considered bound in heaven; whatever you loose on earth shall be considered loosed in heaven.'

Communion Antiphon

Cf Matthew 16:16,18

Peter said to Jesus: You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.

And Jesus replied: You are Peter,
and upon this rock I will build my Church.

Living the gospel

Who do you say I am?

The question Jesus puts to his disciples is the very same question that he puts to us every day of our lives, "Who do you say I am?" How we choose to answer that question will be reflected in our attitude towards self, others and to life itself. How we answer that question will change frequently throughout life as experience and changing spirituality lead us into asking other questions of ourselves. If we hold that the teaching and example of Jesus are important to us, then we are bound to strive towards emulating them in our own lives.

Gospel reflection

Throughout most of its history, the Church has linked the two major figures of Peter and Paul, so it is fitting that they share this feast day. However, also throughout most of the Church's history, Peter has been given greater regard and has held a more significant place in the tradition. In fact, the Church itself is often described as 'Petrine' – in the tradition of Peter. Much is made of the line of Popes being traced back to Peter. The authority and structure of the Church is linked to the Petrine model of Church. Describing Peter as the 'rock' upon which the Church was built is an excellent image of stability and constancy. In something of a contrast, the apostle Paul is best known as the great traveller who spread the message of Jesus all around the shores of the Mediterranean, establishing communities of faith wherever he went. His letters – or epistles - to these communities were some of the first Christian writings; predating by 20 years or more the four gospels of the New Testament. Rather than stability and constancy, Paul is identified with growth and change; expansion and openness. Many would argue that without Paul the early Christian communities may not have survived beyond the end of the 1st Century. Peter and Paul represent two great traditions within the Church: the strength of tradition and oneness associated with Peter; and the valuing of new ideas and outreach to others that typified the work of Paul. Although the Petrine tradition has been dominant for most of the Church's history, the Pauline tradition was rediscovered in the latter part of the 20th Century and it is now clearly evident that the church needs both of these arms to embrace the world.

Scriptural context

When the gospel writer has Jesus declare that he will give to Peter the keys of the kingdom of heaven, he is quoting almost directly from a verse in Isaiah, 'I will place on his shoulder the key to the house of David; what he opens no one can shut, and what he shuts no one can open.' (22:22). The passage in Isaiah is about the appointment of a steward – a caretaker – for the people of Jerusalem. It makes clear that the one appointed carries the authority of the Lord who appoints him. When almost the same words are used about Peter, it carries the meaning from its original context.

Different View – Stone or Rock?

An argument exists about the translation of the naming of Peter as the rock on which the Church will be built. In Greek, it can be translated as 'you are a small stone and on this large rock...'. In this argument, the role of Peter is diminished but the large rock referred to is either Jesus himself or Peter's declaration of faith. However, in Aramaic (spoken by Jesus) the word Kepha or Cephas is used for both Peter's name and the word for rock.

Pope Leo XIV: 'Humanity cries out and pleads for peace'

Pope Leo XIV appeals for an end to the tragedy of war, especially in the Middle East, and recalls that war only amplifies problems and creates deep wounds without providing lasting solutions. By Devin Watkins

"Alarming news continues to arrive from the Middle East, especially from Iran," said Pope Leo on Sunday at the Angelus address.

The Holy Father's words came just hours after US bombers struck nuclear sites in Iran, as Israel and Iran carry out strikes on each other's territory.

"In this dramatic scenario, which includes Israel and Palestine," continued the Pope, "the daily suffering of the population—especially in Gaza and other territories—risks being forgotten, even as the need for adequate humanitarian aid becomes ever more urgent."

"Today more than ever, humanity cries out and pleads for peace," he said.

The Pope said the cry for peace "demands responsibility and reason and must not be drowned out by the roar of weapons or by rhetorical words that incite conflict."

Pope Leo urged every member of the international community to take up their moral responsibility to "stop the tragedy of war before it becomes an irreparable abyss."

When human dignity is at stake, he said, no conflict is distant.

"War does not solve problems," noted the Pope. "On the contrary, it amplifies them and causes deep wounds in the history of peoples—wounds that take generations to heal. No military victory can ever compensate for a mother's pain, a child's fear, or a stolen future."

In conclusion, Pope Leo XIV expressed his hope for the din of arms to fall silent.

"Let diplomacy silence the weapons!" he said. "Let nations shape their future with works of peace, not through violence and bloody conflicts!"

Pope Leo to seminarians: Be passionate about priestly life

The Holy Father emphasized, too, the importance of formation "centred on the heart", of learning "to love as Jesus loved". This must be done through the development of the interior life, the first work of discernment, and involves returning to the heart, where we find "traces of God" and where God speaks to us. Pope Leo said that formation of the interior life involves recognizing the deepest sentiments of the heart, "which help you discover the direction of your life." He noted that the "privileged path" that leads to interiority is prayer, because without an encounter with God, "we cannot truly know ourselves". And he invited them to invoke the Holy Spirit frequently, "so that He may shape in you a docile heart, capable of perceiving God's presence" in nature, art, literature, music, and science. "Above all", Pope Leo said, "learn how to listen, as Jesus did, to the often silent cry of the little ones, of the poor and the oppressed, and of the very many people, especially young people, who are searching for meaning in their lives."

The Holy Father called on seminarians to learn to preserve and meditate on the events of their lives, as Mary did, in order to learn "the art of discernment".

Bequests

Leaving a gift in your Will is a lasting testament to your values; ensuring that your dedication to improving the lives of others can continue for future generations. We understand that providing for loved ones comes first, but even a small percentage of your estate left to the Parish can make a huge difference for our community, especially for those who are struggling with life's challenges also it will assist in the future growth of the Parish.

If you intend to leave a gift to the Parish in your Will, we'd love to know so that we can express our appreciation and gratitude. We would also like to have a bequest plaque created and displayed for you, inside the Church. Any information you provide will always be treated with the utmost respect for your privacy.

The Parish would like to express our heartfelt thanks to all benefactors - your generosity will enable the Parish to help future generations and give many in our community the opportunity to enjoy 'life to the full'.

Safeguarding Essentials.

The archdiocese have stipulated that all volunteers must complete the Safeguarding online training component every 3 years. We had a big push trying to get everyone qualified back in the middle of 2022. Which means that those people are coming up to needing to renew their training. I will be in touch – Thanks, Tim

Parish Footy Tipping Competition

Well done Chris Houlihan last week who was the only of our tippers to correctly tip 7/7. Teresa Lincoln is still top of our leaderboard. Tessa (Chris's daughter) is now 2 behind with James and Terry. Two back are Kees and Jacinta followed by Anneliese and Nathan.

Do you know which player played his 350th game last weekend? 24 others have also played 350 games. Do you know which 4 of them have also won the Brownlow? 6 have played 400 and more. Do you know who they were and which one of those played 157 games at one and 250 at his second Club?

Thanks—James And Spencer

ACU Big Sing for a Big Cause back for 2025

Australian Catholic University's Big Sing for a Big Cause will return in 2025 with two fundraising concerts for mental health and wellbeing advocacy in June. Presented by ACU in partnership with St Patrick's Cathedral (Melbourne) and Preston Market, the 2025 Big Sing for a Big Cause will benefit non-profit health organisations Orygen and headspace. Organised and conducted by ACU Senior Lecturer in Education (Music) Dr Kathleen McGuire, this will be the community choir and orchestra's second year performing concerts in Victoria following their outstanding debut last year.

The 2025 ACU Big Sing for a Big Cause will be held on Friday 27 June, 7PM, at St Patrick's Cathedral Melbourne and livestreamed, and Saturday 28 June, 6PM, at Preston Market.

Jokes of the Week

1) The gift of piety: A pious man, who had reached the age of 105 suddenly stopped going to church. Alarmed by the old fellow's absence after so many years of faithful attendance, the Priest went to see him. He found him in excellent health, so the Priest asked, "How come after all these years we don't see you at services anymore?" The old man lowered his voice. "I'll tell you, Father," he whispered. "When I got to be 90, I expected God to take me any day. But then I got to be 95, then 100, then 105. So, I figured that God is very busy and must have forgotten about me, and I don't want to remind Him."

2) Scared: A man hails a taxi in front of his office building, gives his destination to the driver, and climbs into the back seat. About ten minutes into the drive, he leans forward and taps the driver on the shoulder. At his touch, the cab driver screams, swerves off the road, careens off a lamppost, and comes to a stop in the middle of the sidewalk. The astonished passenger apologizes. "I'm sorry", he says, "I didn't mean to scare you. I just wanted to ask a question." "I know", said the cab driver, "I'm sorry. But this is my first day driving a cab. For the last twenty-five years, I drove a hearse."

NAIDOC

On the first Sunday of July each year, the Catholic Church in Australia observes Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Sunday. On this day we gather as one to honour and celebrate the rich cultural heritage, spirituality and contributions of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in our Church. The theme for this year's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Sunday is 'Sent Forth in Strength and Hope' and the National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Catholic Council (NATSICC) has produced resources to assist parishes in their celebration of this important day.
