First Reading

Isaiah 2:1-5

A reading from the prophet Isaiah

The Lord will gather all nations in eternal peace in the kingdom of God.

The vision of Isaiah son of Amoz, concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

In the days to come the mountain of the Temple of the Lord shall tower above the mountains and be lifted higher than the hills.

All the nations will stream to it,
peoples without number will come to it; and they will say:

‘Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the Temple of the God of Jacob that he may teach us his ways
so that we may walk in his paths;
since the Law will go out from Zion,
and the oracle of the Lord from Jerusalem.’

He will wield authority over the nations and adjudicate between many peoples;
these will hammer their swords into ploughshares,
their spears into sickles.

Nation will not lift sword against nation,
there will be no more training for war.

O House of Jacob, come,
let us walk in the light of the Lord.

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 121:1-2. 4-5. 6-9. R. see v.1.

(R.) Let us go rejoicing to the house of the Lord.

1. I rejoiced when I heard them say:
‘Let us go to God’s house.’

And now our feet are standing within your gates, O Jerusalem. (R.)

2. It is there that the tribes go up,
the tribes of the Lord.

For Israel’s law it is,
there to praise the Lord’s name.
There were set the thrones of judgement
of the house of David. (R.)

3. For the peace of Jerusalem pray:
‘Peace be to your homes!

May peace reign in your walls,
in your palaces, peace!’ (R.)

4. For love of my brethren and friends
I say: ‘Peace upon you!’

For love of the house of the Lord
I will ask for your good. (R.)

Second Reading

Romans 13:11-14

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Romans

The time has come, our salvation is near.

You know 'the time' has come: you must wake up now: our salvation is even nearer than it was when we were converted. The night is almost over, it will be daylight soon – let us give up all the things we prefer to do under the cover of the dark; let us arm ourselves and appear in the light. Let us live decently as people do in the daytime: no drunken orgies, no promiscuity or licentiousness, and no wrangling or jealousy. Let your armour be the Lord Jesus Christ.

Gospel Acclamation

Psalm 84:8

Alleluia, alleluia!

Lord, show us your mercy and love,
and grant us your salvation.

Alleluia!

Gospel

Matthew 24:37-44

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

Stay awake, you must be ready.

Jesus said to his disciples: 'As it was in Noah's day, so will it be when the Son of Man comes. For in those days before the Flood people were eating, drinking, taking wives, taking husbands, right up to the day Noah went into the ark, and they suspected nothing till the Flood came and swept all away. It will be like this when the Son of Man comes. Then of two men in the fields one is taken, one left; of two women at the millstone grinding, one is taken, one left.

'So stay awake, because you do not know the day when your master is coming. You may be quite sure of this that if the householder had known at what time of the night the burglar would come, he would have stayed awake and would not have allowed anyone to break through the wall of his house. Therefore, you too must stand ready because the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.'

The Creed is said.

Communion Antiphon

Psalm 84:13

The Lord will bestow his bounty, and our earth shall yield its increase.

GOSPEL FOCUS

Get Ready!

Jesus draws a parallel between the people in Noah's time and the people of his own time. What it reflects is a complacency that periodically overtook the Jewish people. When the people bound themselves to God in covenant their lives gradually became better. Inevitably, their lives improved to such a state that they forgot God was responsible for their blessings. They ignored their relationship with God and became complacent about their good fortune. Ultimately, their comfort was brought to an end and they recognised once again their need for God. Jesus calls the people to get ready because the pattern is repeating itself.

Gospel reflection

The first Sunday of Advent sees the commencement of the new liturgical year. This new liturgical cycle is referred to as Year A and features the gospel of Matthew. (Year B features the gospel of Mark and Year C, that we have just completed, features the gospel of Luke.) Advent comes from the Latin word Adventus which literally means 'coming'; it is also reflected in the Greek word Parousia, which is used to describe the second coming of Jesus. So Advent is a time of preparation and anticipation of the coming of Christ into the world that is celebrated in the Nativity at Christmas. The gospel passage chosen for today's reading richly expresses that anticipation and need for preparation. It may seem a little confusing that we begin our year-long exploration of the gospel of Matthew by taking a reading from chapter 24. However, the need for readiness and alertness that Jesus speaks about in relation to the coming of the Kingdom is equally suitable for a modern audience when preparing to celebrate once again the coming of Jesus into the world. Jesus is the best expression of the Kingdom that we have yet experienced and so rather than seeing the choice of this passage as a confusion, we should recognise the alignment that exists between the anticipation of the Kingdom and the anticipation of the Nativity. The two great feasts of Christianity – the Nativity and Easter – are each preceded by a period of preparation: Advent and Lent. The emphasis of these seasons is on the mental and spiritual preparation to fully enter into one of the great mysteries of faith. In the Nativity, we celebrate God become human; God present in the world in a physical way. Advent is a time to remember the many and varied ways that God continues to be present in the world.

Scriptural context – Burglars in the night

Today's reading is an example where Jesus used a confronting image simply to gain his audience's attention. He does not intend to suggest that God sneaks up on us like a burglar and is seeking to catch us out. The image conveys the need to prepare for what might happen unexpectedly.

Historical Context – The Advent Wreath

One of the major symbols of the Advent season is the wreath. The encircling wreath is symbolic of God without beginning or end and the green foliage represents our hope in God. There are usually five candles in the wreath, a central white candle representing the light of Christ that came into the world and then four outside candles that are usually purple and rose coloured. The first candle is generally symbolic of Hope and Expectation. The third candle – the rose or pink candle – celebrates the Joy that is anticipated in the coming of Christ. The progressive lighting of the candles marks the journey towards the Nativity.

Voice of peace and hope: Pope Leo's visit to Türkiye and Lebanon

The director of the Holy See Press Office presents Pope Leo XIV's first apostolic journey that takes him to Türkiye and Lebanon, emphasising ecumenical commemoration, interreligious dialogue, and support for local Christian communities. The visit includes historic and symbolic encounters, meetings with civil and religious leaders, and gestures of solidarity amid regional challenges. By Salvatore Cernuzio

The Holy See Press Office Director, Matteo Bruni, has presented Pope Leo XIV's first apostolic journey, which will take him to Ankara, Istanbul, and Beirut, with a significant stop in İznik—ancient Nicaea—for the 1700th anniversary of the Council. The pilgrimage carries a strong ecumenical character and places interreligious dialogue at its centre. It will also be a moment of closeness to Christian communities and local populations across the region. Bruni confirmed that “all necessary security measures have been taken.” The six-day visit will take place from Thursday, 27 November to Tuesday, 2 December 2025.

A demanding visit to two key countries

Bruni described the upcoming trip as “a demanding journey in two significant countries.” Türkiye, homeland of St Paul and a crossroads of early Christianity, and Lebanon, a land marked by coexistence yet severely affected by economic crisis, the port explosion, and recent violence in the south. During nearly a week in the region, Pope Leo XIV will meet civil and religious authorities, visit mosques and ancient churches, pray at Beirut's port in memory of the victims of the 2020 explosion, and hold private meetings with Presidents Recep Tayyip Erdoğan and Joseph Aoun. Bruni noted that the Pope follows “in the footsteps of his predecessors,” from St Paul VI to John Paul II, Benedict XVI, and Pope Francis, who had hoped to return to Türkiye for the anniversary of Nicaea.

Ecumenical focus and support for youth

“The ecumenical dimension is at the heart of this journey,” Bruni said, recalling that Christians of many traditions recognise the Council of Nicaea as a foundation of shared faith. Pope Leo XIV will also show support for small Catholic communities facing emigration and instability, including the many Lebanese Christians living abroad. One of the most anticipated moments will be the Pope's encounter with Lebanese youth in Bkerké, at the Maronite Patriarchate, a meeting expected to carry strong messages of hope in the Jubilee Year.

At Nicaea: a historic commemoration

A central event will be the ecumenical celebration in İznik, where the Pope and Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew will walk together toward the ruins of the Basilica of St Neophytos. The prayer, held before icons of Christ and the Council, will conclude with the lighting of a candle—a symbolic gesture of unity.

Interreligious dialogue

The journey will also highlight interreligious engagement. On 27 November, the Pope will visit the Diyanet, Türkiye's Presidency of Religious Affairs; meet the Chief Rabbi of Türkiye; and hold a private encounter in Beirut with Muslim and Druze leaders. Memorable moments are expected throughout the trip: a wreath at Atatürk's mausoleum, prayer inside the Blue Mosque, Mass at Istanbul's Volkswagen Arena, the planting of a cedar at the presidential palace in Beirut, and prayer at the tomb of St Charbel and before the statue of Our Lady of Lebanon.

Monsignor Frank Marriott

Mons Frank had been battling prostate cancer for many months. He was admitted to the Marjorie Philips Hospice at Bendigo Health on Tuesday 11 November, having broken a vertebrae in his neck. Mons Frank was aware of the seriousness of his situation and that he was reaching the end of his earthly pilgrimage. Despite this, he was at peace and able to speak with many friends and family in the lead up to his death.

He died peacefully surrounded by his family and members of the Sandhurst clergy.

Monsignor Frank was ordained in 1962 and served the Diocese of Sandhurst for the whole of his 63 years of priesthood. Serving across the many parishes before his appointment as Administrator of the Cathedral Parish in 2008. Following the sudden death of Bishop Joe Grech, Monsignor Frank was elected Diocesan Administrator, a role he undertook with great care. The excellence of his service was recognised with a comparatively rare papal honour Monsignor, by Pope Benedict XVI in 2012. He was appointed by Bishop Les as Vicar General in 2012. Mons Frank's lifetime of service to the Catholic Church was recognised in 2022 when he was awarded the Medal of the Order of Australia (OAM). Mons Frank presided at mass here at St Macartan's on several occasions. His giant loving heart is now at eternal rest.

Cause towards sainthood advances as Pope raises Mary Glowrey to Venerable

The cause for sainthood for Australian-born doctor and missionary in India Mary Glowrey has advanced after Pope Leo XIV recognised her 'heroic virtues' on 21 November 2025. Venerable Mary of the Sacred Heart Glowrey, as she will now be titled, is just the second Australian, after St Mary MacKillop, to be accorded this status.

Born in the Victorian town of Birregurra in 1887, Glowrey was an experienced doctor in Melbourne hospitals and private practice when she travelled to India, aged 32, and entered religious life in Guntur, located in present-day Andhra Pradesh. She spent 37 years in service to marginalised women and children.

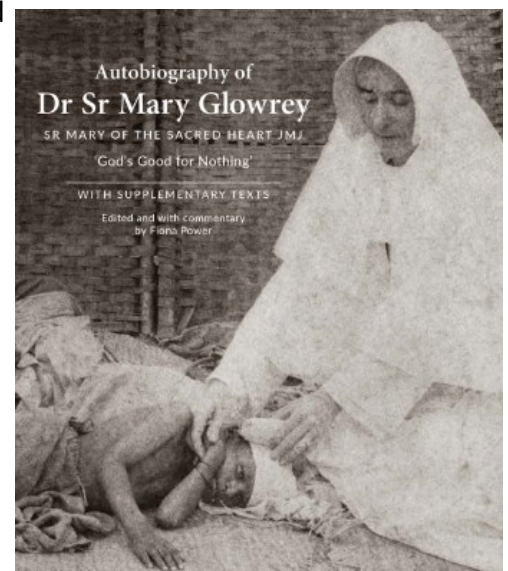

Glowrey completed her secondary and tertiary education in Melbourne through scholarships, graduating from the University of Melbourne in 1910 (MBBS) and 1919 (MD).

She joined a Dutch religious congregation in India in 1920. Known as Sr Mary of the Sacred Heart MJM, she dedicated her life to caring for marginalised women and children in India by providing medical treatment and establishing healthcare facilities, training programs and support networks.

In 1943, Glowrey founded what is now India's largest non-government healthcare network, the Catholic Health Association of India (CHAI).

She died in Bangalore (Bengaluru) in 1957.

Vinnies Mornington Conference

2025 for our local St Vincent de Paul Conference was a continuation of recent years with the disadvantaged in our community facing very difficult times. There are no signs that financial pressures are easing; in fact, in some aspects they are worsening. For example, rents continue to increase, along with utility bills and normal living costs such as food and clothing, and furniture. These “materialistic” pressures often are accompanied by psychological pressures which may lead in the worst situations to suicide attempts.

On top of these economic pressures many people are living under the threat of homelessness, and abusive behaviour on the streets and in our schools; plus, for some there is the terror of domestic violence. And for many there are serious health issues, often experiencing long waiting times before getting essential medical attention. These people are doing it tough.

In 2025 our 20 or so Conference members have continued to work hard towards helping those finding themselves in dire circumstances. We as a matter of course deliver donated food and food vouchers to ensure there is food on the table in homes where budgets are stretched to the breaking point. We also help where we can with utilities and other costs people are facing. For those situations where we can't help, we are connected to a network of other organizations who may be in a better place to render assistance.

In terms of raw numbers, for 2025 we will have visited over 900 families and provided assistance to a value in excess of $150,000. But perhaps more important than that dollar amount associated with those visits are the chats we have with people who are lonely and who can't see any light at the end of their personal tunnel. Sometimes hopefully our visit provides that “torch” which is so sorely needed.

Challenges facing our Conference in 2026 relate mainly to being able to have the necessary staff to carry out our mission. We are far from being a “young” team; in fact, we are a very mature age group. We have had 6 of our members having to retire this year because of health problems; fortunately, we have been able to recruit 4 new youngish members so we can complete our work. Realistically we can expect to lose another 1 or 2 in 2026, but we would like to get ahead of the curve, and so we would ask anybody interested to talk to us about joining the team.

We thank God for giving us the opportunity to work with the people of Mornington; and we thank the parishioners of St Macartan for their generous financial assistance and their regular donations of food staples.

Regards, Barry and team.

St Macartan's Gift Shop

Hello Parishioners,

Early in the week we were busy working in the Gift Shop replacing stock that was sold with the 200 plus Pilgrims who visited us over the weekend. After Father Geoff's kind words regarding the Gift Shop after each Mass, several Parishioners from the Annex have called in to have a browse. They were very surprised with the quality and the fabulous range of religious goods we have to offer and couldn't believe the variety of items available for whatever occasion. They had no hesitation starting their Christmas shopping and were extremely happy with their purchases.

Unfortunately there will be no further orders placed between now and the New Year so please don't leave your shopping until the week or two before Christmas. There are more Pilgrim Tours expected and with the Christmas Fair stock will reduce quickly. The Christmas Cards are beautiful, still only $5 for a pack of 8 and the Calendars have arrived and they are selling quickly.

Until the New Year, the Gift Shop will now be opening after the 6pm Mass on Saturday night to accommodate Christmas Shoppers. A big thank you to Ann and Rosemarie for their unfailing support with assisting the Pilgrims in the Gift Shop. Thanks also to Esme who stepped in to assist last weekend in Ann's absence. We all wish you a speedy recovery.

God Bless and take care - The Gift Shop Volunteers

CONGRATULATIONS!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Well done to one of our own.

Jokes of the Week

#2: End of the World News Reactions: God finally had had enough and decided to end the world. However, He wanted to warn the people. He decided to call the three most influential people of the world. He therefore summoned Donald Trump, Xi Jinping (President of China), and Bill Gates into one room and told them of His plan and asked them to go out and inform the world. President Trump immediately appeared on CNN news and told the U.S., "I have good news and bad news. The good news is that God congratulated me for standing for religious and moral principles. The bad news is that He is going to end the world and I won't be able to finish my second term and bring back full prosperity to our country." Xi Jinping went to the Communist network and told his people: "I have bad news and worse news. The bad news is that, despite what we have taught all these years, there IS a God. The worse news is that He is upset. He is about to end the world." Bill Gates turned to the Internet and informed the world: "I have good news and better news. The good news is that God thinks I am one of the three most influential people on earth... The better news is that Microsoft need not upgrade its WINDOWS anymore.

#2: Search Google: One Sunday after Church, a mother was talking to her young daughter. She told her daughter that, according to the Bible, Jesus will return to earth someday. "When is he coming back?" the daughter asked. "I don't know," replied the mother. "Can't you look it up on the Internet?" the little girl asked.
