First Reading

Acts of the Apostles 2:1-11

A reading from the Acts of the Apostles

They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak different languages.

When Pentecost day came round, the apostles had all met in one room, when suddenly they heard what sounded like a powerful wind from heaven, the noise of which filled the entire house in which they were sitting; and something appeared to them that seemed like tongues of fire; these separated and came to rest on the head of each of them. They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak foreign languages as the Spirit gave them the gift of speech.

Now there were devout men living in Jerusalem from every nation under heaven, and at this sound they all assembled, each one bewildered to hear these men speaking his own language. They were amazed and astonished. 'Surely' they said 'all these men speaking are Galileans? How does it happen that each of us hears them in his own native language? Parthians, Medes and Elamites; people from Mesopotamia, Judaea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya round Cyrene; as well as visitors from Rome – Jews and proselytes alike – Cretans and Arabs; we hear them preaching in our own language about the marvels of God.'

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 103:1. 24. 29-31. 34. R. v.30

(R.) Lord, send out your Spirit and renew the face of the earth.

1. Bless the Lord, my soul! Lord God, how great you are,
How many are your works, O Lord! The earth is full of your riches. (R.)
2. You take back your spirit, they die, returning to the dust from which they came.
You send forth your spirit, they are created; and you renew the face of the earth. (R.)
3. May the glory of the Lord last for ever! May the Lord rejoice in his works!
May my thoughts be pleasing to him. I find my joy in the Lord. (R.)

Second Reading

Romans 8:8-17

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Romans

People who are interested only in unspiritual things can never be pleasing to God. Your interests, however, are not in the unspiritual, but in the spiritual, since the Spirit of God has made his home in you. In fact, unless you possessed the Spirit of Christ you would not belong to him. Though your body may be dead it is because of sin, but if Christ is in you then your spirit is life itself because you have been justified; and if the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead is living in you, then he who raised Jesus from the dead will give life to your own mortal bodies through his Spirit living in you.

So then, my brothers, there is no necessity for us to obey our unspiritual selves or to live unspiritual lives. If you do live in that way, you are doomed to die; but if by the Spirit you put an end to the misdeeds of the body you will live.

Everyone moved by the Spirit is a son of God. The spirit you received is not the spirit of slaves bringing fear into your lives again; it is the spirit of sons, and it makes us cry out, 'Abba, Father!' The Spirit himself and our spirit bear united witness that we are children of God. And if we are children we are heirs as well: heirs of God and coheirs with Christ, sharing his sufferings so as to share his glory.

Sequence

Holy Spirit, Lord of light, From the clear celestial height Thy pure beaming radiance give. Come, thou Father of the poor, Come with treasures which endure; Come, thou light of all that live!

Thou, of all consolers best, Thou, the soul's delightful guest, Dost refreshing peace bestow; Thou in toil art comfort sweet; Pleasant coolness in the heat; Solace in the midst of woe. Light immortal, light divine, Visit thou these hearts of thine, And our inmost being fill: If thou take thy grace away, nothing pure in man will stay; All his good is turned to ill. Heal our wounds, our strength renew; On our dryness pour thy dew;

Wash the stains of guilt away: Bend the stubborn heart and will; Melt the frozen, warm the chill; Guide the steps that go astray. Thou, on us who evermore Thee confess and thee adore,

With thy sevenfold gifts descend: Give us comfort when we die; Give us life with thee on high; Give us joys that never end.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

Come, Holy Spirit; fill the hearts of your faithful and kindle in them the fire of your love.

Alleluia!

Gospel

John 14:15-16. 23-26

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

The Holy Spirit will teach you everything.

Jesus said to his disciples 'If you love me you will keep my commandments. I shall ask the Father and he will give you another Advocate to be with you for ever.

If anyone loves me he will keep my word,
and my Father will love him,
and we shall come to him
and make our home with him.

Those who do not love me do not keep my words.

And my word is not my own;
it is the word of the one who sent me.

I have said these things to you
while still with you;

but the Advocate, the Holy Spirit,
whom the Father will send in my name,
will teach you everything

and remind you of all that I have said to you.'

Communion Antiphon

Acts of the Apostles 2:4,11

They were all filled with the Holy Spirit and spoke of the marvels of God, alleluia.

Historical Context

Pentecost

The word Pentecost comes from the Greek for fiftieth day. Pentecost Sunday ends the season of Easter and comes as a Sabbath day after seven weeks of seven days. In Jewish tradition the 50th day after the Passover was celebrated as a blessing of the harvest and rather than the unleavened bread of Passover it was celebrated by leavening the bread. It was for this reason that the disciples were gathered together when they experienced the Holy Spirit empowering them. In Christian tradition, Pentecost is celebrated as the arrival of the Spirit, promised by Jesus, that animated the disciples to spread the gospel of Jesus and gather believers to form what would eventually become the Church.

Gospel reflection

The feast of Pentecost celebrates the power of the Holy Spirit coming upon the disciples and energising them to set about their mission of continuing the ministry of Jesus. The gospel reading is one of the post-resurrection appearances by Jesus when he breathed the Holy Spirit upon the disciples. The actual events of that first Pentecost are recorded in the book of Acts and are recalled in this week's first reading. The use of this post-resurrection gospel account is a reminder that Jesus had already imbued the disciples with the Spirit but, as so often throughout his ministry, they were a bit slow to catch on to the significance of what he had done. It seems that they needed a more tangible experience to jolt them into action and Acts records the very physical experience of the Spirit entering their midst as a roaring wind before settling upon them as tongues of flame. Jesus had breathed the Spirit upon them but it took the roaring wind to make a real impression on the disciples. There are frequent references in the gospels to Jesus being 'filled with the Spirit'. It is this Spirit with which he was filled that he breathed upon his disciples; it is that same Spirit that we receive sacramentally in Confirmation. For the weeks following the death of Jesus the disciples had lived in fear and confusion, not fully understanding what had happened and not really knowing what to do. When they realised that the Spirit Jesus had breathed upon them was really present and urging them to action they finally had the courage to begin the mission that Jesus had entrusted to them: to spread the Good News of Jesus and continue to realise his message in the world.

Have you thought? The Spirit

We can sometimes regard Pentecost as the day the Holy Spirit came into the world. However, the Spirit had long been active in the world before this event. In fact, even the second verse of Genesis Chapter 1 tells us that the Spirit hovered over the waters. The Old Testament is filled with references in which 'The Spirit of God came upon (him) with power' and the Spirit was evident at Jesus' baptism and throughout the gospels. Jesus is frequently described as being 'filled with the Spirit'. So, from the very beginning of creation the Spirit has moved in the world and continues to energise it today.

Living the Gospel – Come, Holy Spirit

'Come, Holy Spirit', or its Latin, Veni Sancte Spiritus, has become the basis of countless prayers and hymns over many hundreds of years. To this day, it remains a powerful invocation that can be used in prayer or meditation. Three simple words convey a wealth of meaning. The invitation for the Spirit to 'Come' indicates recognition of the need for the Spirit's intervention and openness to accept the guidance that the Spirit brings.

Pope Leo: Families are the cradle of humanity's future

Closing the Jubilee of Families, Children, Grandparents and the Elderly, Pope Leo presides over Mass and challenges everyone to ground their love in Christ, which can bring peace to the world.

By Kielce Gussie

On Sunday morning, St. Peter's Square was filled with families for the concluding Mass in honor of the Jubilee of Families, Children, Grandparents and the Elderly. Pope Leo XIV presided over the celebration and, in his homily, he reflected on the family as a source of communion and faith.

Firstly it is a gift

The Gospel passage for the day showed Jesus at the Last Supper praying that all "may be one", which the Pope described as "the greatest good that we can desire." This unity that Jesus prayed for is one that comes from the same love God created life and brought salvation into the world – "as such, it is firstly a gift that Jesus comes to bring."

God's love, Pope Leo continued, is an infinite love that knows no end. The love God has for each and every one of us is no less than the love He has for His son, Jesus.

We need each other

Reflecting on the gift of life, the Pontiff called to mind the words of his predecessor, Pope Francis, who explained how we are all sons and daughters, "but none of us chose to be born."

Furthermore, the Pope highlighted, from the moment of our birth we depend on others to survive. "All of us are alive today thanks to a relationship," he stated, "a free and freeing relationship of human kindness and mutual care." However, this kindness is sometimes betrayed. Yet, despite the evil that opposes life, Jesus does not stop praying for us and His prayer "makes fully meaningful our experience of love for one another as parents, grandparents, sons and daughters." Pope Leo underscored that this is the message we are to share with the world.

We are here to be "one" in our families and in those places where we live, work, and study." But he clarified that being one does not mean being the same. While we are all different, he said, we are called to be one, always and in every situation and stage of life.

Sign of peace

In a world full of conflict and disagreement, the Pope encouraged everyone to ground their love in Christ because if we do this, "we will be a sign of peace for everyone, in society and the world." This, he reminded everyone, starts at home as families are the "cradle of humanity's future." In recent decades, there are more and more examples of holy families. There are number of married couples who have been beatified and canonized, not separately but together. Pope Leo gave the examples of the parents of Saint Therese of the Child Jesus, Louis and Zélie Martin, and the Ulma family from Poland. Pope Leo explained the Church's call for the marriage covenant to be respected today because it has "unifying and reconciling power" that can change the world.

He reiterated that "marriage is not an ideal but the measure of true love between a man and a woman: a love that is total, faithful and fruitful." And this relationship, he urged, should be an example of integrity for children on how to act. Turning to the children present, the Pope reminded them of their duty to honor their parents and thank them each day for the gift of life. He also gave grandparents and the elderly a task: watch over their loved ones "with wisdom and compassion, and with the humility and patience that comes with age."

Pope Leo concluded by stressing that the family is where faith is handed on from generation to generation — "it is shared like food at the family table and like love in our hearts." Therefore, the family is a privileged place to meet Jesus.

NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

The Preeminence of Christ
Colossians 1:15-20

"He is before all things, and in him all things hold together"
Col 1:17

7th of June Ecumenical Service

MISSIONARIES OF

among all peoples

This week, you're invited to partner with the Church in Zambia to help women overcome poverty and mothers give birth safely.

The Women's Cooperative, led by Sr Jane will provide women with the training and support required to break the cycle of scarcity, and the Chilonga Mission Hospital is determined to ensure every woman and baby receives a safe and dignified start to life.

During World Mission Sunday, we are called to be 'Missionaries of hope among all peoples', and we invite you to extend Christ's love to those in need in Zambia. You can support this work by using the appeal envelope, going online at catholicmission.org.au/mission, or scanning the QR code. Your gift will also assist many other Church programs around the world.

SCAMMERS

Scams work because they look like the real thing and scammers contact you when you're not expecting it, or busy trying to do many things at once. We have had ongoing issues with a scam here in the parish. The scammers from outside our parish (probably overseas) will send the following email (or similar wording via text):

Hello, Are you free? I would love to know if you are open to correspondence via email. I have a matter that I would appreciate your discreet assistance with. Thank you.

*Blessings,
Reverend Geoffrey McIlroy*

If you engage with the scammers, believing it to be from Father Geoff, they will say that he is with needy parishioners and can you send money to a given account. Please be confident in the fact that Father Geoff would never ask you directly for money, and you can always call me at the parish office to discuss.

Also, always check who sent the email - from what email address. Fr Geoff's are only: Geoffrey.mcilroy@cam.org.au or Geoffmcilroy@gmail.com or from the Parish email: Mornington@cam.org.au. But do this always, on ALL your incoming emails.

Mens Night

On advice received from Donald Trump, the next Men's Night on June the 19th, will start at 4.00pm instead of 5.00pm due to the nights becoming quite dark. Parish Footy Tipping Competition

Last week our 5 leaders all tipped 5/7 so that Teresa Lincoln remains 3 in front of James, Terry, Tessa and Jacinta. Kees and Anneliese are one further behind in a continuing close competition this year. Our best tippers last week were Tahlia and Paul with 6/7.

National Reconciliation Week finished this week. There are 62 AFL players on current playing lists who identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander in season 2025. Do you know which Club leads the way with 7 of those players and which 2 Clubs have only 2 each? As well do you know who are the only 8 indigenous players to have captained their Club or the only one to have won the Brownlow Medal or the only 2 indigenous men to have coached a VFL side?

Jokes of the Week

1) The gift of counsel: Just after receiving his driver's license, a Lutheran minister's son wanted to talk about using the family car. "I'll make a deal with you," his father said. "Bring your grades up, read your Bible more often, and get a haircut. Then you may use the car once or twice a week." A month later the question came up again. "Son," the father said, "I'm proud of you. I see you studying hard and reading your Bible every day. But you didn't get a haircut." After a moment's pause, the son replied, "Yeah, I've thought about that. But Samson had long hair, Moses had long hair, and even Jesus had long hair." "True," the father replied, "but maybe you noticed that they walked wherever they went?"

2) The gift of fortitude: A mother refused to permit her little boy to go for a picnic with his classmates. On the day of the picnic, however, she changed her mind and gave him permission. But he sighed and confessed, "It's too late Mummy, I've already prayed for rain on the school picnic day!"

3) The gift of knowledge: 1) The story is told of a man who went to the priest and said, "Father, I want you to say a Mass for my dog." The priest was indignant. "What do you mean, say a Mass for your dog?" "It's my pet dog," said the man. "I loved that dog and I'd like you to offer a Mass for him." "We don't offer Masses for dogs here," the priest said. "You might try the denomination down the street. Ask them if they have a service for you." As the man was leaving, he said to the priest, "I really loved that dog. I was planning to give a five-thousand-dollar stipend for the Mass." And the priest said, "Wait a minute! Why didn't tell me that your dog was Catholic?!"
