First Reading

Jeremiah 20:10-13

A reading from the prophet Jeremiah

Jeremiah said:

‘I hear so many disparaging me,
“Terror from every side!
Denounce him! Let us denounce him!”
All those who used to be my friends
watched for my downfall,
“Perhaps he will be seduced into error.
Then we will master him
and take our revenge!”
But the Lord is at my side, a mighty hero;
my opponents will stumble, mastered,
confounded by their failure;
everlasting, unforgettable disgrace will be theirs.
But you, Lord of Hosts, you who probe with justice,
who scrutinise the loins and heart,
let me see the vengeance you will take on them,
for I have committed my cause to you.
Sing to the Lord,
praise the Lord,
for he has delivered the soul of the needy
from the hands of evil men.’

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 68:8-10. 14. 17. 33-35. R. v.14

(R.) Lord, in your great love, answer me.

1. It is for you that I suffer taunts,
that shame covers my face,
that I have become a stranger to my brothers,
an alien to my own mother's sons.

I burn with zeal for your house
and taunts against you fall on me. (R.)

2. This is my prayer to you,
my prayer for your favour.

In your great love, answer me, O God,
with your help that never fails:

Lord, answer, for your love is kind;
in your compassion, turn towards me. (R.)

3. The poor when they see it will be glad and God-seeking hearts will revive;
for the Lord listens to the needy
and does not spurn his servants in their chains.
Let the heavens and the earth give him praise,
the sea and all its living creatures. (R.)

Second Reading

Romans 5:12-15

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Romans

God's gift to us is nothing like our sin against him.

Sin entered the world through one man, and through sin death, and thus death has spread through the whole human race because everyone has sinned. Sin existed in the world long before the Law was given. There was no law and so no one could be accused of the sin of 'law-breaking', yet death reigned over all from Adam to Moses, even though their sin, unlike that of Adam, was not a matter of breaking a law.

Adam prefigured the One to come, but the gift itself considerably outweighed the fall. If it is certain that through one man's fall so many died, it is even more certain that divine grace, coming through the one man, Jesus Christ, came to so many as an abundant free gift

Gospel Acclamation

John 15:26. 27

Alleluia, alleluia!

The Spirit of Truth will bear witness to me, says the Lord,
and you also will be my witnesses.

Alleluia!

Gospel

Matthew 10:26-33

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

Jesus instructed the Twelve as follows: 'Do not be afraid. For everything that is now covered will be uncovered, and everything now hidden will be made clear. What I say to you in the dark, tell in the daylight; what you hear in whispers, proclaim from the house-tops.

'Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul; fear him rather who can destroy both body and soul in hell. Can you not buy two sparrows for a penny? And yet not one falls to the ground without your Father knowing. Why, every hair on your head has been counted. So there is no need to be afraid; you are worth more than hundreds of sparrows.

'So if anyone declares himself for me in the presence of men, I will declare myself for him in the presence of my Father in heaven. But the one who disowns me in the presence of men, I will disown in the presence of my Father in heaven.'

Communion Antiphon

Psalms 144:15

The eyes of all look to you, Lord,
and you give them their food in due season.

GOSPEL FOCUS

Fear

When scripture uses the term fear, it tends to fall into one of two meanings. When used in the context of 'do not be afraid' or 'fear not', it is a command to not be daunted by the woes and trials that the world imposes. The other use tends to be a command that we should fear God. In this context, the word does not mean to be frightened of God but rather to show proper reverence. To fear God is to stand in wonder and awe rather than to cower and hide. So, fear God, but do not be afraid!

Gospel reflection

'Do not be afraid' is one of the most commonly repeated sentences in the Bible. In one form or another, the command to 'be not afraid' or 'fear not' appears several hundred times throughout the Old and New Testaments. Today's gospel passage is part of the sending out of the Twelve that occupies all of Chapter 10 in the gospel. It follows a little later in the chapter from last week's reading in which Jesus called the Twelve and sent them out as Apostles. The remainder of the chapter provides an extended teaching on what it means and what it costs to take the message of Jesus out into the world. Jesus teaches the Twelve that the message they bear will not always be well received and there will be those who will seek to silence the Apostles through violent means. But then the teaching comes to the section of today's passage and Jesus commands the Twelve, 'Do not be afraid'. The message to not be afraid is as much for the original intended audience of the gospel as it was for the apostles. The community for whom this gospel was written were on the verge of being 'squeezed out' and forced into secret. The passage reminds them to have courage and to have the courage of their convictions; to shout from the house-tops their message, not whisper it in darkness. It is a reminder of the abundant love of God who cares for them and sees all their efforts to continue to live out the message and ministry of Jesus. It is equally a message for us, today. We are called to continue the spread of the gospel message; continuing the work of those early Christian communities, the Twelve and Jesus himself.

Living the Gospel – From the house-tops

One of the messages of Jesus to his disciples and, through him, of Matthew to the original community, is to have courage and to have pride in their belief. No matter what threat or persecution they are to endure, the command is to proclaim the message of Jesus from the house-tops. They are to be proud of what they believe and be prepared to share it with others. In a world today that is not always open to the message of Jesus, we too are called to be proud of what we believe and not whisper it in the darkness.

Scriptural context – The Q source

This gospel passage that appears at Mt 10:26-33 is virtually reproduced in the gospel of Luke (12:2-12) but does not appear in the gospel of Mark. Both the gospels of Matthew and Luke draw extensively on the gospel of Mark as a source for their writing but scholars have also deduced that they shared another unknown source. The content of this lost source can only be deduced by the identification of parallel passages such as this one that appear in Matthew and Luke but not Mark. The undiscovered document is known as the 'Q source' after the German word, Quelle (source).

Pope: May US-Iran memorandum be "truly a solution to the war"

Pope Leo answers questions from journalists on topics including the US-Iran war and his recent visit to Spain.

Vatican News

Speaking to journalists outside the papal residence in Castel Gandolfo, Pope Leo reflected on recent Memorandum of Understanding between the US and Iran, his recent trip to Spain, the topic of 'remigration', and the SSPX's impending episcopal consecrations.

Standing outside Villa Barberini, where he had, as usual, spent his Tuesday resting and working, the Pope stopped to speak with the journalists who had been waiting for hours behind barriers.

He began with those from the Spanish media, which had been prepared for the press conference on the return flight from Tenerife but had gone unanswered due to a technical failure that forced Leo to return on a different aircraft.

US-Iran war

Asked about the recent agreement between the United States and Iran, Pope Leo said "thank God, there is at least this Memorandum that they will officially sign on Friday." "There will still be several points to be established," the Pope added, "but it is always better to do so through dialogue, through negotiation, rather than returning to war." The Holy Father expressed his hope that the Memorandum might be "truly a solution to the war, that the war is really over and that we can move forward for the good of all. Eliminate nuclear weapons, yes, seek the good of all peoples, seek how to solve the problems also at the economic and social level that have been created in this time."

Trip to Spain

The Pope also addressed questions on his recent trip to Spain, stressing "the enthusiastic response of so many people in all the places." "Every moment," Pope Leo said in Spanish, "was well prepared. We must also say that the bishops, with so many laypeople, so many volunteers, in all the places worked to prepare everything, and it was marvelous." Based on what he observed, Leo XIV felt he could declare that the people were "very happy." A journalist noted that it is not an easy time for Spanish politics. "I do not want to interfere in Spanish politics, just as I do not in other countries", Pope Leo said, before highlighting "the invitation to dialogue, the invitation to listen to each other, and not always to criticize and insult one's opposition without reaching agreements for the common good".

Divisions in the Church

The Pope was also asked about the case of the Society of Saint Pius X, which has said that on July 1st it will carry out four episcopal consecrations without papal mandate, despite the Holy See's warning about the risk of schism. On this topic, the Pope spoke of the communication between the Society and the Dicastery for the Doctrine of the Faith: "We are still considering making another appeal, to say 'do not do this, let us try to live in communion in the Church.' But it is their choice. We must realize what it means for them and for the Church. Certainly, division among Christians is always a painful point, but they refuse to accept certain fundamental elements of the Church, starting with various points of the Second Vatican Council. If they make that choice, I am sorry, but we must move forward."

Children's Liturgy of the Word

Children's Liturgy of the Word is held every Sunday during the 11.00am Mass. All primary school-aged children are warmly invited to join us as we explore the Sunday Gospel and readings in a way that is engaging, meaningful and age-appropriate.

Parents are welcome to accompany and support their child if they wish.

We are also seeking additional volunteers to assist with this important parish ministry. If you enjoy working with children and would like to help share the Good News with our young parishioners, please contact the Parish Office for more information.

Dear Parishioners,

Thank you for your generosity last weekend to the SVDP Appeal. A total of $3,910 was donated.

This parish amazes me. You are always ready to give to help others who are less fortunate.

The people we are helping struggle to make ends meet. Most are on parenting or disability pensions. Rents continue to rise, the cost of food is increasing, children need new shoes, and the list goes on.

We are very grateful for the food that donors leave in our bins at the church and at local supermarkets, which helps keep our costs down. Thank you, parishioners, for your continued support.

ENLIVEN

This youth group was aimed at Primary School aged youth and was borne from Encounter. The name changed, because Encounter was more widely used by our Archdiocese for their Youth Association and we wanted to avoid any confusion.

But Enliven has not been very successful. Even when it was here as Encounter, when it was held on Sunday afternoons. It was shrinking, as youth sports and other events took precedent.

With Enliven moving to midday Sundays it just hasn't worked - Yet! And I do mean Yet.

So right now Enliven will be suspended until a later date, when there is more interest.

So, let us support where we can all youth in our congregation to help them be involved and participate where they can.

If there is more interest and you want a Primary school aged youth group, please speak with myself or Tim or Jody and let us see what can be done.

The demographic of our congregations is changing and more and more young families are joining us, and that is a great sign for a healthy future.

Hello everyone,

To clarify - No, I'm not leaving St Macartan's, and Father Geoff certainly hasn't asked me to. Quite the opposite. I love being here, Father Geoff and I work very well together. I've recently passed my first 12 months as Parish Coordinator, and it has been a genuine privilege. I feel incredibly blessed to be part of such a welcoming and faith-filled community.

Thank you to everyone who has reached out with your kind words, encouragement and support. As Father Geoff often says, we all have an important role to play in the life of our parish. I am but a cog in a big wheel.

As our parish grows, new opportunities and roles naturally emerge—more on that in the coming months.

In short, I'm very happy where I am and look forward to continuing to serve the parish for many years to come.

God bless, Tim

A refugee: A person who is forced to flee their country and cannot return unless the situation that forced them to leave improves. Some are forced to flee without any warning and many have experienced torture and trauma. The motivating factor for these people is safety and protection from persecution and human rights abuses, not economic advantage

2026 marks the 75th anniversary of the 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees. The 1951 Refugee Convention, and its 1967 Protocol, are the key legal documents that protect the rights of refugees at the international level. The Convention defines the term 'refugee' and outlines the legal protection, rights and assistance a refugee is entitled to receive. It was developed in the aftermath of the First and Second World Wars, when millions of people fled their homelands in search of refuge. The core principle of the 1951 Convention is non-refoulement, which asserts that a refugee should not be returned to a country where they face serious threats to their life or freedom. UNHCR serves as the 'guardian' of the 1951 Convention and 1967 Protocol. UNHCR also helps governments translate them into national laws to ensure refugees are protected and can exercise their rights. As displacement continues to rise and pressure on asylum systems grows, the 1951 Convention remains as vital as ever. It continues to provide the legal framework to safeguard the rights and safety of refugees and remains relevant in tackling contemporary challenges, such as ongoing conflicts, climate change and disasters. This 75th anniversary is an opportunity to reaffirm the Convention's relevance and strengthen its application in today's world.

The countries that people seek safety from have changed throughout history. Australia has resettled people from all over the world. After the Second World War, most people came from countries such as Germany, Poland and Ukraine. In the 1950s, people arrived from Hungary and in the 1960s, many people came from Czechoslovakia. In the 1970s, people began to come to Australia from Indochina (Vietnam) and Latin America (Chile and El Salvador) and these groups continued to arrive in the 1980s. During the 1990s, Australia resettled many people from the Middle East and South Asia, as well as those fleeing the Balkan or Yugoslav war. Many people at this time came from ethnic or religious minority groups or opponents of the Taliban regime in Afghanistan or Saddam Hussein's regime in Iraq. From 2015-2023, the major applicants accepted by Australia through the Refugee and Special Humanitarian Program were from Afghanistan, Bhutan, Burundi, Central African Republic, Democratic Republic of Congo, Eritrea, Ethiopia, Iran, Iraq, Lebanon, Myanmar, Pakistan, South Sudan, Sudan, and other stateless refugees.

Jokes of the Week

1. "Fear of monster under the bed: A man visited a therapist because he had a fear of monsters living under his bed. The man had been seeing this doctor for months. Every time he would come in, the doctor would ask, "Have you made any progress?" Every time the man would say "No". The man decided to go and see another doctor. When he went back to his first doctor, the doctor asked, "Have you made any progress?" he said "Yes! I am feeling all better now!" The doctor asked, "What happened?" The man said, "I went to another doctor and he cured me in one session!" The doctor asked, "What did he tell you?" The man said "He just told me to cut off all four legs of my bed and leave no space for the monster!"

2. No Fear: The devil entered the house of an alcoholic. But the drunkard just ignored him. The surprised devil asked him "Do you know who I am?" "Why of course I know who you are," the man calmly replied. "You're Satan." "And you're not afraid of me like the others?" the devil asked somewhat puzzled. To which the drunkard replied, "No. Why should I be? I've been married to your sister for the last 25 years."
