First Reading

Proverbs 8:22-31

A reading from the book of Proverbs

Wisdom was born before the earth was made.

The Wisdom of God cries aloud:

The Lord created me when his purpose first unfolded,
before the oldest of his works.
From everlasting I was firmly set,
from the beginning, before earth came into being.
The deep was not, when I was born,
there were no springs to gush with water.
Before the mountains were settled,
before the hills, I came to birth;
before he made the earth, the countryside,
or the first grains of the world's dust.
When he fixed the heavens firm, I was there,
when he drew a ring on the surface of the deep,
when he thickened the clouds above,
when he fixed fast the springs of the deep,
when he assigned the sea its boundaries
– and the waters will not invade the shore –
when he laid down the foundations of the earth,
I was by his side, a master craftsman,
delighting him day after day,
ever at play in his presence,
at play everywhere in his world,
delighting to be with the sons of men.

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 8:4-9. R. v.2

(R.) O Lord, our God,
how wonderful your name in all the earth!

1. When I see the heavens, the work of your hands,
the moon and the stars which you arranged,
what is man that you should keep him in mind,
mortal man that you care for him? (R.)
2. Yet you have made him little less than a god;
with glory and honour you crowned him,
gave him power over the works of your hand,
put all things under his feet. (R.)
3. All of them, sheep and cattle, yes, even the savage beasts,
birds of the air, and fish that make their way through the waters. (R.)

Second Reading

Romans 5:1-5

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Romans

To God through Christ in the love which is poured out through the Spirit.

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, by faith we are judged righteous and at peace with God, since it is by faith and through Jesus that we have entered this state of grace in which we can boast about looking forward to God's glory. But that is not all we can boast about; we can boast about our sufferings. These sufferings bring patience, as we know, and patience brings perseverance, and perseverance brings hope, and this hope is not deceptive, because the love of God has been poured in to our hearts by the Holy Spirit which has been given us.

Gospel Acclamation

See Apocalypse 1:8

Alleluia, alleluia!

Glory to the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit:
to God who is, who was, and who is to come.

Alleluia!

Gospel

John 16:12-15

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

Whatever the Father has is mine. The Spirit will receive what I give and tell you about it.

Jesus said to his disciples:

‘I still have many things to say to you but they would be too much for you now.

But when the Spirit of truth comes he will lead you to the complete truth, since he will not be speaking as from himself
but will say only what he has learnt;
and he will tell you of the things to come.

He will glorify me,
since all he tells you
will be taken from what is mine.
Everything the Father has is mine;
that is why I said:

All he tells you
will be taken from what is mine.’

Communion Antiphon

Galatians 4:6

Since you are children of God,
God has sent into your hearts the Spirit of his Son,
the Spirit who cries out: Abba, Father.

Living the Gospel

Trinity

Every time we make the sign of the cross we reaffirm our belief in a God who is Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Although some people have difficulties with the gender-specific language of 'Father' and 'Son' and look for other ways to express this reality, all Christian people profess a belief in the one God who is experienced in three distinct ways. We are baptised 'in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit' and we remind ourselves of this reality when we pray and when we bless ourselves or others.

Gospel reflection

In the Gospel of John, today's reading appears as part of the rather lengthy Last Supper discourse that runs from chapter 13 to chapter 17. The discourse is a centre-piece of this particular gospel. In it, Jesus speaks a number of times about the coming of the Holy Spirit. The portion that makes up today's reading comes from a slightly longer passage about the sending of the Spirit (16:4-15). Throughout the Last Supper discourse, the Holy Spirit is identified as Gift and Love. The Spirit is the Gift that will be sent by the Father and by the Son so that the world may continue to experience the Love of the Father and the Son. In the discourse, Jesus calls on the disciples to love one another with the same love that they had experienced from him – the love of God. To assist the disciples to continue to love with the same love of God and Jesus, the Spirit is sent to them. The Holy Spirit is the lasting expression of the divine love that had previously been experienced through the Father and the Son. The discourse makes it very clear that the Spirit will continue the work of Jesus. Today's passage has Jesus saying to the disciples that there is still so much that he has to say to them, to teach them. But the disciples are not ready to receive everything in the time that Jesus has remaining. So to continue the teaching of Jesus and to continue the expression of Love, the Father and the Son will send the Spirit. It was the sending of the Spirit that we celebrated last week in the feast of Pentecost and it is the unity of Father, Son and Spirit that we celebrate this week in Trinity Sunday.

Historical Context – The Nicene Creed

The definitive statement of Christian belief is contained within the Nicene Creed that we proclaim in the Mass. It was developed by the Council of Nicea, held in 325, in response to a variety of teachings (some declared to be heresy) that were circulating at the time and the creed was further revised in 381. The creed declares that Jesus is 'God from God, light from light, true God from true God ... of one being with the Father' and that the Holy Spirit 'proceeds from the Father and the Son'. All of these statements seek to define the oneness of the Trinitarian God.

Have you thought? Spoken through the prophets

One Creedal statement about the Holy Spirit is that 'He has spoken through the prophets'. This statement of Christian belief is to reaffirm that the Spirit has played a role throughout human history and did not 'come into being' at Pentecost. In fact, a translation of the opening lines of Genesis reads, 'and the Spirit of God hovered over the waters'. Although the Old Testament emphasises God the Creator, or the Father, the gospels emphasise the role of Jesus, the Son and the New Testament writings emphasise the work of the Spirit, all three expressions of God's loving presence are beyond the limits of time and place.

Pope: Papal representatives embody universality of Church's desire for peace.

Pope Leo XIV meets with his Pontifical Representatives across the globe, and urges them to bear witness to the Church's love for the world and her desire to do anything possible to stand on the side of those in need.

By Devin Watkins

Apostolic Nuncios and other papal representatives deployed throughout the world met with Pope Leo XIV in the Vatican on Tuesday.

As other Popes have done at their first meeting with their diplomatic representatives, Pope Leo gifted each with a ring symbolizing their bond to the Successor of Peter, which bears the inscription "sub umbra Petri". "Always feel bound to Peter, guarded by Peter, sent by Peter," said the Pope in his address. "Only in obedience and effective communion with the Pope can your ministry be effective for the edification of the Church, in communion with local Bishops."

Papal representatives, he noted, are an image of the Catholic Church and her universality, since they hail from many nations and are sent to represent the Pope throughout the world.

At the same time, added the Pope, no other diplomatic corps is as united in communion and purpose than the Holy See's diplomatic personnel. "The diplomacy of the Holy See constitutes in its very personnel a model—certainly not perfect, but very significant—of the message it proposes, namely that of human fraternity and peace among peoples," he said.

Speaking off-the-cuff, the Pope said the ministry of pontifical representatives is "irreplaceable," adding that their assistance in choosing candidates for the episcopate is truly essential.

In his prepared remarks, Pope Leo expressed his gratitude for their service as he takes the first steps of his Petrine ministry, saying he especially appreciates their expertise in understanding issues and situations related to any given country.

He commended their pastoral style and spirit of faith, and recalled the words of Pope St. Paul VI, who was himself a diplomat.

"Through his Representatives, who reside in various nations, the Pope becomes a participant in the very life of his children and, almost inserting himself into it, comes to know more quickly and securely their needs and aspirations."

Pope Leo XIV then turned to a biblical image to illustrate the mission of pontifical representatives, pointing to St. Peter's healing of the lame man in the Acts of the Apostles (3:1-10). He said the lame man begging at the gate of the Temple seems to represent the lost hope and resignation of humanity, which appears to have lost all joy. Peter told the lame man that he had no money to offer but that he would give the man everything he had, saying to him: "In the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene, walk!" The Pope noted that Peter told the lame man to look at him, indicating that his ministry sought to build relationships, just as papal representatives seek to do with states and international organizations. "Always be Peter's gaze!" he said. "Be men capable of building relationships where it is most difficult." Giving Jesus Christ, added the Pope, means giving "love, bearing witness to that charity that is ready for anything."

Pope Leo XIV said the Church is "ready for anything out of love" and is always on the side of the least and the poor.

"She will always defend the sacred right to believe in God, to believe that this life is not at the mercy of the powers of this world, but is permeated by a mysterious meaning," he said.

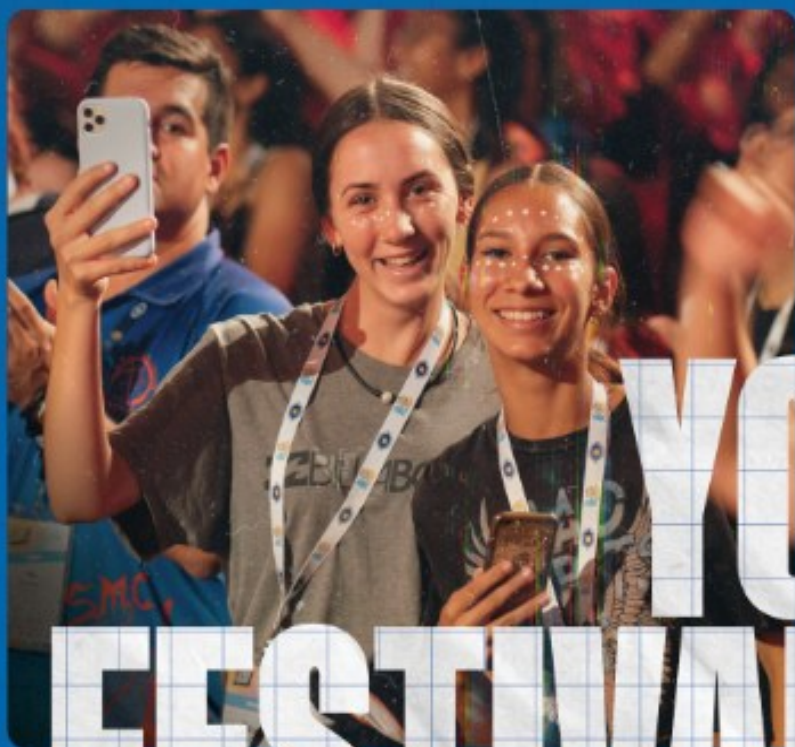

This mission, he added, is especially important in the places where war, violence, and injustice leave people crucified.

In conclusion, Pope Leo invited his representatives to be missionaries sent by the Pope to be "instruments of communion and unity in the service of human dignity."

Bequests

Leaving a gift in your Will is a lasting testament to your values; ensuring that your dedication to improving the lives of others can continue for future generations. We understand that providing for loved ones comes first, but even a small percentage of your estate left to the Parish can make a huge difference for our community, especially for those who are struggling with life's challenges also it will assist in the future growth of the Parish.

If you intend to leave a gift to the Parish in your Will, we'd love to know so that we can express our appreciation and gratitude. We would also like to have a bequest plaque created and displayed for you, inside the Church. Any information you provide will always be treated with the utmost respect for your privacy.

The Parish would like to express our heartfelt thanks to all benefactors - your generosity will enable the Parish to help future generations and give many in our community the opportunity to enjoy 'life to the full'.

Parish Footy Tipping Competition

Our best tipper last week was Tessa Houlihan with 7/8. Tessa is now only one behind our leader Teresa. Another one behind are James and Terry. One back is Jacinta followed by Kees and Anneliese. It's still hard to find winners in a closely fought season.

With the death of Queen Elizabeth II the match which celebrated her birthday from 1952 to 2022 ended. Last Monday was the third match celebrating King Charles's Birthday. Do you know the name of the trophy awarded to the best player in that match and who are the only 2 players to have won it twice? Do you also know in which June year did the two Clubs that now play an annual King's/Queen's Birthday fixture (and have exclusively since 2001) set a record as the biggest home and away crowd ever at 99,256.Thanks - Spencer and James Elder abuse: what is it?

There's no place for elder abuse in our community. This year, World Elder Abuse Awareness Day takes place on Sunday 15 June. It's an opportunity to come together and stand against the abuse, mistreatment and neglect of older people. Learn about the signs of elder abuse and how to seek help for yourself or a loved one.

Summary

- Elder abuse is an act that causes harm to an older person, carried out by someone the older person knows and trusts.
- If you or someone you know is in an emergency, call 000.
- Help is available if you are experiencing, or are at risk of experiencing, elder abuse.

Call Seniors Rights Victoria's free helpline on 1300 368 821 from 10 am to 5 pm, Monday to Friday. If you need an interpreter, please call the Translating and Interpreting Service on 131 450 and ask them to call the helpline.

High Spirits.

High Spirits classes are for families with children who attend non-Catholic schools. High Spirits provides a pathway for Catholic parents of children Grade 3 and above seeking the Sacraments of Reconciliation and first Eucharist. The children must have been baptised. Classes will commence after the school holidays in late July. Please complete the form on the parish website under 'documents and forms,' or contact the office to discuss.

Changes to parking .

Thanks to your kind financial support, we have been able to create more provision for accessible parking on the parish grounds. There is now provision for 6 angled parking bays, 3 either side of the garage. These are angled to allow for easier access and egress when cars are parallel parked on the other side of the roadway. Please follow the road markers to allow for the optimum number of cars to fit inside the space.

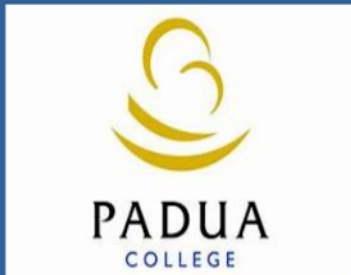

Jokes of the Week

#1: Wisdom from child's mouth: At Confirmation, the Bishop asked the children for a definition of the Holy Trinity. A girl answered very softly – "The Holy Trinity is three persons in one God." The Bishop, who was rather old and almost deaf, replied, "I didn't understand what you said." And the young theologian standing in front of him replied: "Well, Bishop you are not supposed to. The Trinity is a mystery. Nobody understands it."

#2: Trinitarian priest: One parishioner said, "The Trinitarian God is a lot like our priest. I don't see him through the week, and I don't understand him on Sunday."
